We have received a copy of Messrs. Jones's 1123, Strand "Index Register to New of Kim, Hemsat-Law, and Cross of abandoned Money." The firm, an old-established one, has been for many years engaged in finding owners for the large sums of money which he unclaimed in (Chancery), and they are able to achieve practically anything that their efforts have been successful in many cases. In money matters this result has been led up to by a perusal of their register. -Kaiser County, 17/11/1886, September 2nd, 1886.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

DOUGAL'S INDEX REGISTER is a neatly bound volume containing a list of heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and cases of unclaimed money, corrected up to the present year. The proprietors have had the satisfaction of paying over large sums of money to heirs-at-law in Great Britain and on the Continent who but for this list would never have claimed, and their solicitors are now engaged with several other claims which are likely to prove successful. We are informed that this edition has cost about £1,000 in printing and binding alone.—Beverley Recorder, October 2nd, 1886.

UNCLAIMED MONEY.—We have received a copy of Dougals's Index Register to next-of-kin, heirs-at-law, and cases in which money has been left in Chancery or in trust and the legal claimants of which have not yet been found. The Register is carefully compiled and as there are 100 pages of names there is a chance for everybody, especially as the dormant funds lying in Chancery are certified to amount to £77,693,769. Some of the cases recorded in which money has been paid over after a lapse of many years are certainly very curious, and apart from its usefulness the book contains some interesting reading.—Messrs. Dougals's office is 453, Strand, London.—Monmouthshire Beacon, November 12th, 1886.

DOUGAL'S INDEX REGISTER TO NEXT-OF-KIN, HEIRS-AT-LAW, AND CASES OF UNCLAIMED MONEY.—This book, compiled by F. H. Dougals, Esq., contains a complete list, arranged alphabetically, of the names of persons deceased whose next-of-kin, heirs-at-law, and personal representatives are wanted, also persons who have been advertised for to claim sums of money and property in Great Britain and all parts of the world since 1650, together with amusing anecdotes on extraordinary windfalls, curious wills, &c. This is just a collection of names, and the names of the persons who have added a missing relative, &c. DOUGAL'S INDEX REGISTER.—We have received a new and enlarged edition of Dougals's Register to Next-of-Kin, Heirs-at-law, and Cases of Unclaimed Money. It contains the names of persons deceased whose next-of-kin, heirs-at-law, and personal representatives are wanted, and also persons who have been advertised for to claim sums of money in Great Britain and all parts of the world since 1650, together with amusing anecdotes and extraordinary windfalls, curious wills, &c.—Leeds Townley Record, August 21st, 1886.

CAUTION.

We hereby caution the public against unscrupulous persons representing themselves to be in a position to supply copies of advertisements relating the names in our book at nominal prices. Our INDEX TO ADVERTISEMENTS has been compiled at great expense and labour extending over a period of nearly 100 years.

The advertisements relating to names in our books cannot be supplied any other persons.

DEAR SIRS,

I have to own the receipt of your favour of 22nd December last, and beg to thank you for the copies of advertisements.

It is to be regretted that your Registered List of Names has not a wider circulation, for I am of opinion that a great many parties would derive benefit through it; the importance of such a work has long been felt by those who need similar information. DEAR SIRS,

I have a great deal of pleasure in saying that, on February 10th last, I received from your office a copy of the advertisement of the Law Commission, in connection with the recovery of claims on a considerable sum of money, and so I have been paid into Court under the provisions of the Act.

I must say that I happened to see my name in your Register of persons advertised for, and I was assisted by your office. By your intervention I was able to recover my claim, which was established in a short period of time in the Court. Had I not seen your valuable book, I have no doubt that I should have been left in the lurch. I have no doubt that your agency I have, through the means of your legacy, together with compound interest.

If it were more widely known that you were such a valuable book, and that your agency was quick and efficient, it would establish the claims of claimants to funds, I am quite sure the value of money unclaimed now in Chancery would be considerably diminished by the recovery of such sums by your assistance.

I need scarcely say that, when an opportunity occurs, I shall make a point of showing you a copy of your Register, and quote my luck as an example of what may be in store for them.

DEAR SIR,

I must express a great deal of pleasure in testifying that, on February 26th last, I attended at the Law Courts in London, in company with yourselves, and received a considerable sum of money bequeathed to me by a relation over fifty years ago, and which had been paid into Court under "The Legacies Act."

Last autumn I happened to see my name in your Register of persons advertised for, and applied to you for information. By your instrumentality and assistance my claim was established in a short period to the money in Court. Had it not been for your valuable book, I have no doubt I should have died ignorant of the fact that any legacy had ever been left to me. Through the medium of your agency I have, in advanced age, received this legacy, together with compound interest.

If it were more widely known that you publish such a valuable book, and that your agency so quickly and inexpensively establishes the title of claimants to funds, I am quite sure the vast sums of money unclaimed now in Chancery would be considerably diminished by the owners applying to you for assistance.

I need scarcely say that, when an opportunity occurs, I shall make a point of showing my friend, your Register, and quote my luck as an example of what may be in store for them.

DEAR SIR,

Some years since I purchased your "Register of Next-of-Kin," and on looking over Index to same found my Uncle's name among those having Funds in Chancery.

I thereupon instructed you to investigate the matter on my behalf, the result of which, was that I and others entitled to share in the funds received an amount each. I understand all that was then available in the Court of Chancery, and being convinced that there are many persons in Australia entitled to money lying unclaimed in England, but who are ignorant of the way in which they can recover it, I advise them to procure your "Register of Next-of-Kin," and have their claims properly investigated by F. H. Dougal & Co., of 62, Strand, London, England, knowing from experience that you are the proper persons to undertake the work.

Accept my thanks for the way in which you have proved my Claim.

16th June, 1894.

DEAR SIR,

Your letter of the 30th April last has been received. The Register compiled and published by your firm is of very great value, and the facilities you afford, enable individuals at a small cost to ascertain whether it is worth their while to follow up their enquiries.

In my own case I may state that my mother was entitled to money that for upwards of fifty years had been lying unclaimed in the Accountant's Office in Chancery. I had received a hint to that effect, but took no steps to ascertain whether or not such statements were correct.

Seeing one day your Book in our Supreme Court Library here, I noticed my Mother's Maiden name as that of one who was entitled to money, and with this confirmation I at once placed the matter in the hands of my London Agents, who were successful in obtaining what should have been paid more than half-a-century ago.

I do not think I should have prosecuted my enquiries had it not been for the confirmation given by your book, and I therefore think it is to be regretted that it is not more generally known, as undoubtedly owners would be discovered for much of the large amount of money lying unclaimed.

Yours faithfully,

E. T. DUFAUR.

16th June, 1894.

DEAR SIRS,

Your letter of the 30th April last has been received. The Register compiled and published by your firm is of very great value, and the facilities you afford, enable individuals at a small cost to ascertain whether it is worth their while to follow up their enquiries.

In my own case I may state that my mother was entitled to money that for upwards of fifty years had been lying unclaimed in the Accountant's Office in Chancery. I had received a hint to that effect, but took no steps to ascertain whether or not such statements were correct.

Seeing one day your Book in our Supreme Court Library here, I noticed my Mother's Maiden name as that of one who was entitled to money, and with this confirmation I at once placed the matter in the hands of my London Agents, who were successful in obtaining what should have been paid more than half-a-century ago.

I do not think I should have prosecuted my enquiries had it not been for the confirmation given by your book, and I therefore think it is to be regretted that it is not more generally known, as undoubtedly owners would be discovered for much of the large amount of money lying unclaimed.

Yours faithfully,

E. T. DUFAUR.

DEAR SIRS,

I herewith enclose receipt for Draft on Union Bank of South Australia, Adelaide Branch. Allow me to tender you my very sincere thanks for your prompt attention to my monetary matters in England.

If it had not been for your Next-of-Kin Advertisement Book in all probability I should never have heard of this money being left to myself and family in Australia after so many years past.

You are at liberty to publish the fact, and in so doing you will confer a great favour on many colonists like myself. Again thanking you, Gentlemen,

I have the honour to be,

Yours most respectfully,

GENTLEMEN,

I have great pleasure in testifying to the promptitude with which your firm has complied with my request for information respecting certain property in England in which I am interested under the will of a deceased relative, and I would most certainly recommend all who have the idea that they are entitled to any money as legatees or beneficiaries under such will to apply to your good selves to make the necessary searches at Somerset House.

Wishing you all success in this, your special line of business, which undoubtedly is the means of conferring pecuniary benefit on thousands who would otherwise have remained in ignorance of their claims.

Messrs. F. H. Dougal & Co.,

DEAR SIRS,

I have just received your letter, dated July 24th, 1893, with a draft enclosed on Melville, Evans & Co., Bankers, of 75, Lombard Street, London, £114 17s. 5d. sterling, or $57.70 dollars, being my share of the estate of Edward Thompson, recovered for me by your Agency, for which I thank you.

I first became acquainted of this unclaimed money through seeing the name of Edward Thompson in your Index Register of Advertisements for Next-of-Kin, Heirs-at-Law, Legatees, etc.

I should probably never have heard of it had I not seen your book.

I remain, very respectfully,

Yours came to hand, and regret to state that Mrs. Mary B. Harrison died last January. But in reference to the letter that you saw in the Index Book of F. H. Dougal and Company, of London, it is all right. I am her son, and am the party who wrote the letter to F. H. Dougal & Co., as ours was almost the first case they had in this location, and you may rest assured that everything stated in said letter is correct. We gave them the power to collect all moneys due. The fund was in the hands of W. Rackham, Esq., as trustee.

TESTIMONIALS.

We found them upright and honest, and they did all they agreed to do. We had the British Consul at New York to place the British seal upon all our papers, to insure us that we would get justice, as we were not sure there was anything in the courts. If you are about to commence obtaining any information in reference to any money, I would send for the advertisement if you had been advertised for, and then you will know what they want you for, and perhaps find out what you are entitled to and the full amount. If there is any more information I can give, will be pleased to do so.

Next-of-Kin Advertisment Office

FOR THE

Recovery of Claims in Great Britain, the Colonies, India, America, France, Germany, Ireland, and all parts of the World.

ESTABLISHED 1844.

CONDUCTED BY

F. H. DOUGAL & Co.,

458 STRAND, LONDON, ENGLAND.

PREFACE.

THE number of Advertisements constantly appearing for Claimants to large Sums of Money and Property in Great Britain, and all parts of the world, has induced the Authors to publish an Index to Advertisements, which has been compiled and arranged with considerable care, while no expense has been spared to render the work correct. It contains the Names of persons deceased whose Heirs-at-Law, Next-of-Kin, or Legal Personal Representatives have been advertised for; also of Legatees, Creditors or their Representative Missing Friends, Annuitants, &c., &c., &c., advertised in the London, Provincial, Irish, Scotch, and Foreign Newspapers. These Advertisements are often run on by the parties interested, many of them live and die ignorant of the fact that they have been advertised for. It is our aim to remedy this difficulty and by reference to us the public are now enabled to obtain what may be very valuable information at a trifling cost.

Many cases have been settled and the money paid over, and others are insignificant in amount, yet the fact that there is £77,693,769 in the hands of the Paymaster-General as Suitors' Stock and Cash, a large portion of which remains unclaimed, shows that much is recoverable by the right parties.

The money in the Treasury is very large. The Unclaimed Dividends of the Bank of England invested in the Public Funds can be calculated by millions. In India there is a very large sum left by British subjects. In Australia and other Colonies hundreds of British subjects have died intestate leaving sums of money varying in amount, which can all be recovered by the persons now entitled on their establishing their Claims.

UNCLAIMED MONEY.

By returns presented to the House of Commons the amount of the Sutor's Stock and Cash standing in the Court of Chancery is upwards of £77,693,769. Of this even a large portion remains unclaimed. There is also an enormous sum standing in the Bank of England as Unclaimed Dividends. Large amounts are due to representatives of persons who have died in state, and the amount of Army and Navy Prize Money unclaimed is nearly £2,000,000.

The following paragraphs show that people live and die in want, ignorant of the fact that they are heirs to ENORMIOUS WEALTH; others unexpectedly receive large fortunes.

A LUCKY TRAM CONDUCTOR.

A Liverpool tram conductor has received an intimation that he is Next-of-Kin of a West Indian planter named Cort, who has left £100,000.—Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper, April 15th, 1883.

THE MANGINI-BROWN ESTATE.

It is not often that persons have wealth suddenly thrust upon them; and the five Italians who discovered themselves to be jointly entitled to more than £200,000 cannot be looked upon as otherwise than exceedingly fortunate persons. The money in question was the whole of the residuary estate of an aged lady named Maria Mangini Brown, who died in 1871 in Hertford Street, Mayfair. Mrs. Brown was the daughter of one Antonio Mangini, better known in England as Anthony Mangin, who filled various different positions in life, and subsequently, towards the latter part of the last century, found himself agent and Consul-General in London of the Ligurian or Genoese Republic, one of those struggling states practically obliterated by the first Napoleon. He was a ceremonial man who amassed much wealth; and married an Englishwoman who predeceased him. Mangini himself died in 1805, leaving the bulk of his property to his daughter Maria, who is supposed to have married one Louis Brown, by whom she had a daughter, who died before her, and left descendants, who, entirely for themselves, are unable to produce any certificate or other evidence of a marriage between Brown and their grandmother. All Maria Mangini-Brown's issue, therefore, being either extinct or shut out, it became necessary, on her death in 1871, to seek her Next-of-Kin from among Consul Mangini's descendants, she not having left any valid will. None of these being forthcoming, the Treasury administered to her estate, and assumed possession of her accumulated wealth, subsequently paying it into the Court of Chancery. Here, then, was a wide field for elements to come from. There was no reason to suppose Antonio Mangini legitimate, and he must therefore have Next-of-Kin in existence somewhere. They were eventually, and were no less than thirteen in number, of whom one, a Mrs. Lane, actually got the Chancery decree made in her favour, ordering the payment to her alone of nearly the whole of the £200,000. Before, however, she could enjoy the fruits of her judgment, certain Italians named Frezza, proved themselves nearer of kin than Mrs. Lane to the defunct Consul, and at her judgment reversed in their favour.—Next of Kin Gazette.

HEIR WANTED TO A FORTUNE.

A romantic application was made to Mr. Woolrych at Westminster. The applicant desired, if possible, to learn the present situation of a person named Ambrose, who fifteen years since was committed to a reformatory at that court, and subsequently shipped to Australia. It appears that the friendless boy of fifteen years ago is now the heir to a fortune.

Daily Telegraph, January 6th, 1873

AN EXTRAORDINARY WINDFALL.

A railway blacksmith, named Allen, has just recovered an estate near Harley, worth £70,000. The estate is the Utberley Hall property, just outside the borough. The Allen family has held the property from the days of the Conquest, but more than a hundred years ago the title deeds were lost, and in 1828 the family were dispossessed through being unable to produce them. A subsequent occupant of the family house seems to have found the deeds and taken them to Mr. Hobbes, the gentleman who, according to his own statement, was sent into Staffordshire by the Lord Chancellor to recover property for poor people. The next Mr. Allen inspected the papers found in the possession of Hobbes, when that worthy was apprehended, but without result; but on the advice of a friend, he interviewed Mr. Hobbes Blackwell, and Mr. Hobbes gave him the name of a man in London with whom he had deposited the Allen deeds as security for a small loan. From this man the deeds were obtained for £3 by Mr. Allen, who now will rise from the position of a railway block-maker to the possession of an ever-improving estate.—Manchester Weekly Times, March 22nd, 1873.

ROMANTIC CASE.

A romantic case is a subject of inquiry before a Commission held at the suit of the Attorney-General of Victoria and nine claimants, one resident in this country, and the rest in America. The case is one of intestacy. The amount of property involved is estimated at between £80,000 and £90,000. It was reddeed by one Patrick Coily, who, it is said, was born in the old goal of Newgate, in this city, in 1816, and died in Australia in 1872. The mother of the deceased was a servant, who was convicted of stealing plate, which belonged to her master. She was sentenced to seven years' transportation, and while awaiting the arrival of a convict ship at Cork, she gave birth to the deceased, who was baptised Patrick, in the Roman Catholic Chapel of St. Michael. At the termination of her sentence, his mother got "the run" of the country, and married a freed convict named Buckley. Whether this second marriage was bigamous or not does not appear, but the Buckleys prospered. The woman died at an advanced age, and her memory is honoured in poetry and prose, in monumental marble, in the Catholic Cathedral of Sydney. Her son, having been one of the earliest squatters in Gippsland, amassed a very large fortune, and bore a high character for benevolence and rectitude. After her death search was made for a will, but none could be found. Two suits were instituted in Australia, one in Chancery, and the other in Probate. In the latter a forced will was set up by a man named Fisher, but the fraud was detected, and Fisher sent to goal to await his trial. Inquiries were instituted by Mr. Octavius O'Brien, J.P., of this city, and the result is that the present set of claimants have come forward. In order to establish these rights evidence has been taken by Commission in the United States, Canada, Newfoundland, Baltimore, and now finally in Dublin, before the trial which is to determine the question at issue, is held in Australia.—Next of Kin Gazette.

WINDFALL TO AN ENGINE-DRIVER.

The wife of an engine-driver on the London and South Western Railway last week came into possession of a legacy of £17,000, from a source from which not a penny was expected. The lucky man sent in his resignation, and on Saturday took his last drive between Salisbury and Exeter and back, and was warmly congratulated on his good luck.—Daily Telegraph, January 14th, 1880.

CAYENNE PEPPER.

CHESHIRE v. THE DICKBECK BANK.

The plaintiff, the widow and executrix of a chemist, who carried on business at Cold Harbour-lane and in other parts of London, claimed £169 odd, which had been deposited in the defendant's bank by her late husband, who shortly before his death had authorised her to take it out, but which the defendants declined to give up on the ground of insufficient evidence as to the identity of the depositor and person who authorised the lady to draw the money, and until they should be indemnified against any other possible claim on the deposit. The circumstances of the case were somewhat peculiar.—Mr. Bingham, the plaintiff's counsel, said the deceased had been of rather eccentric habits, and had a fancy for carrying out some of his business transactions under assumed names. In this instance he had deposited the money in the bank under the title of "King Napoleon Pepper," and the note he gave to his wife authorising her to get the money out was signed "K. N. Pepper"—the title in its contracted form being, of course, only a phonetic rendering of "Cayenne Pepper." The plaintiff said she did not know anything about the deposit in the bank until shortly before her husband's death, when she gave the note to the bankers, explaining the circumstances, but they refused to give her the money. Mr. A. Cross, their counsel, pointed out to the Court that in the case of a bank which had 40,000 depositors, some of them with names as striking as that of "King Napoleon Pepper," and at least seven of them being Leppers, it was necessary to observe some caution. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff. A verdict, with judgment for two amounts claimed, was accordingly entered for the plaintiff, without costs on either side.—Daily Telegraph, Feb. 27th, 1883.

JOHN BROWN.

Her Majesty's favourite servant, John Brown, was believed to have feathered his nest remarkably well, and the idea is confirmed by a telegram from Aberdeen yesterday stating that his estate is valued at more than £50,000. Mr. Probert, the Queen's Commissioner at Balmoral, has been appointed executor, and he is now engaged in the work of administering the fortune left by the thirty Scot.—London's Weekly Newspaper, May 6th 1883.

FROM PAUPERISM TO AFFLUENCE.

Information has been received at Portsmouth to the effect that three persons in that town and one in Australia have each just come in for a fourth share of a quarter of a million of money which has for years been lying in Chancery. One of the prospective recipients is, and has been for some time, in the workhouse.—Daily Telegraph, September 17th, 1883.

DEATH OF A CLAIMANT TO A FORTUNE.

The inquiry into the circumstances of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Mobbs, the claimant, it was stated, to a fortune of 2100,000, and who died in consequence of cold and want, was resumed on Wednesday. It was stated by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Joshua Mobbs, that the property in question included the Shepherdess Fields and the Britannia Fields, and extended from the south side of the City Road to near the New River at Islington, and eastward as far as the Kingsland Road, or some parts farther, and comprehended a considerable portion of Hoxton. It was called the Wentlock Manor estate. The copy of the will (produced) would show that Mr. William Mobbs, and his elder brother, James, were bequeathed the whole of the property by their father, Mr. John Mobbs, of Islington. Witness's husband, Mr. Joshua Mobbs, was the son of Mr. William Mobbs. Although the will was made in 1790, it was not proved till the year 1836. The executors named in it—John Farmer and John Davis—kept it concealed, and brought up the children, contrary to the direction of the testator, in a poor way; afterwards apprenticing them to a shoemaker, and all the while keeping them ignorant of their rights. In 1837 they seemed to have acquired some inkling of them, and commenced law proceedings; but the matter went from the hands of one solicitor to another, and great delay and expense was incurred in satisfying the Probate Court that, notwithstanding the long lapse of time, the will was genuine. Since 1836, when probate was at last obtained, delay and expense had been incurred in consequence of the parties having the wrongful possession of the property having other necessary documents in their own hands and ample means to defend themselves, while two claimants were poor and without proper advisers. Mr. Mobbs added that she was in contemplation with the object of filing a bill of discovery of these documents. After some remarks by the Coroner, that he could not go into the question of the heirship of the property, the Jury returned a verdict of "Death from pulmonary apoplexy." The value of the property claimed will, it is said, in consequence of the extensive buildings on it, be worth 23,500,000.—Manchester Guardian, October 31st, 1862.

THE EARTHQUAKE AT ISCHIA.

Among the victims at Casamicciola were a Signor and Signora Bonavita, who left property worth 5,000,000*l.*, to which there is no direct heir. Their relations, in order to terminate the succession, have petitioned to have the bodies disinterred, that by an examination the external injuries it may be ascertained which died first.—Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper, August 20th, 1883.

A ROMANTIC STORY.

Two brothers named Kibolde, one of whom lives at Farnworth, near Bolton, and the other here, both of them factory operatives, have just, it is reported, come into a fortune of 2,000,000*fr.* Their father served in the Crimean war, and after his death, the mother, it is asserted, deserted her children, three sons and a daughter. The latter was adopted by a French gentleman, and, upon his decease, she entered a convent. The fortune left by this sister for the benefit of her brothers is 2,000,000*fr.*—Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper, December 6th, 1882.

HARD LUCK.

Tragic! Benjamin Walter Roper, a medical man, has just died in the utmost poverty, and in one of the lowest and most squalid slums of Nottingham. At Wakefield, only a few hours' journey away, a legacy of 22,000 and an annuity of 2300 had been awaiting him for some time, but his whereabouts were not known. No tricks of that scurvy jade, Fate, could be kinder than this.—Sportsman, August 23rd, 1882.

AN HEIR WANTED.

A substantial fortune, says the Western Morning News, is now going begging for want of claimant. James L. Blackmore, an iron moulder, left Taunton for America twenty years ago in indigent circumstances, and died on the 25th of last month, leaving a round sum of about 50,000*l.*, his wife having predeceased him by half-a-year. The neighbour who writes to the rector of Taunton to make inquiries was told by Blackmore on his death-bed that his brother and sister were still living in the town. The brother, who was a small tavern keeper, is said to have left the country, but there is a probability that he or the NEXT-OF-KIN will be found. Otherwise the money will revert to the State.—Manchester Examiner and News, June 28th, 1872.

£100 UNCLAIMED FOR 163 YEARS NOW WORTH £2,600.

(Before Mr. Justice Watkin Williams, without a Jury.)

BURKE, ADMINISTRATOR, &c., v. THE ROYAL EXCHANGE ASSURANCE CORPORATION.

This case was of a peculiar character. The plaintiff sued as administrator de bonis non of William Brydges, of Tiberton Court, in the county of Hereford, to recover £100 stock in the defendants' corporation, and also dividends accruing upon that stock for the last 163 years. Mr. Collins, Q.C., and Mr. Wood Hill were for the plaintiff; and Mr. Willis, Q.C., and Mr. Ford, for the defendants. Mr. Collins said that the question was whether William Brydges, of Tiberton Court, was the same person as William Brydges, of Gray's Inn Square, who died in 1731, and to whose will the plaintiff had administered. It appeared from the records that William Brydges, the son of Francis, of Tiberton Court, was in 1708 admitted a student of the Middle Temple; in 1709 he became one of the six clerks in Chancery; in 1711 he married Jane Card, daughter of one of the benchers of Gray's Inn; in 1713 he was admitted to Gray's Inn from the Middle Temple, being described as of Tiberton, Hereford, and two days afterwards he was called to the bar. In July 1713, he resigned his position as one of the six clerks in Chancery, and he then took chambers in Holborn-Court (now Gray's Inn Square). In 1735—his father having died about this time—he obtained leave to assign his chambers. In 1739 he made his will, and in 1761 he died. The book in which William Brydges was allotted the £100 stock was saved from the great fire at the Royal Exchange in 1838. The learned counsel mentioned that but for a great fire in Gray's Inn in Elizabeth's time that society could have given to make out the case for the plaintiff, and that he had no evidence to give for the defendants, and the question was simply whether his lordship was satisfied. He added that it was very singular that any person who lived in Gray's Inn should never have applied for dividends upon the stock, especially as in the first year—that of the "South Sea Bubble"—the dividend was £25. At that time there was considerable risk attaching to investments, and perhaps some one took the stock in a name not his own. Such a thing, he understood, was not unusual, even in connection with the Bank of England. Mr. Justice Williams: This company was chartered under the statute, and therefore there would be no risk. He must say that the case seemed to be made out for the plaintiff as clearly as anything could be proved. His lordship, after some discussion, made an order declaring the plaintiff entitled to the stock and the dividends upon it. He also, in order to protect the defendants, directed that there should be a mandamus to enforce the order. He added that it was a very proper case to be investigated; and the defendants had behaved throughout in a most honourable and straightforward way. Judgment was given for the plaintiff for the £100 stock, and the dividends which had accrued since 1720, which it was said would in all amount to about £2,600, and the costs were ordered to be paid out of the fund.—Daily Telegraph, May 10th, 1883.

A PAUPER HEIR.

In October, 1877, a broken-down solicitor, named James Pitt, died in the Immigrants' Home, Melbourne, and it was afterwards discovered that he was the missing heir to a property in the old country, yielding an annual income of about £2,000. By the last will a remittance of £100 was received from his friends, which, in accordance with their instructions, they have paid over to the Immigrants' Aid Society. Pitt was an inmate of the home for five years, and his maintenance only cost the Society about £13 or £14 a year, so the remittance will fully recoup them.—Weekly Scotsman, April 12th, 1879.

A BARONETCY AND £16,000 A YEAR.

Who says that romances cannot be found in commercial circles? A few days ago it appears that a pleasant, genial old gentleman called at one of the City Banks and requested an introduction to one of the junior clerks. The clerk, who had noticed the stranger, and seen him enter the manager's room, was startled by a summons to go inside. As employers, as a rule, are not fortunately often guilty—it might lead to pride, vain-glory, and much puffing-up—of summoning their employees into the firm's chief sanctum to be complimented, the young clerk left his desk with a tremor. Once inside the manager's room the clerk found himself face to face with the stranger. The visitor immediately broke the ice by saying he had the pleasure to announce that by the death of an uncle, and in consequence of the death of several other relatives, this young gentleman was heir to a baronetcy. Hardly believing his ears, and restraining a very natural desire to shout "hurrah," the clerk summoned up enough presence of mind to ask if it was an empty title. The visitor immediately and blandly informed him that his income was at least £10,000 a year, with £50,000 at a bank upon current account. It has since been ascertained that the income is not less than £16,000 a year. This is not bad for "a start."—Spectator, February 27th, 1880.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

ON

DOUGAL'S UNCLAIMED MONEY REGISTER.

NEXT-OF-KIN, HEIRS-AT-LAW, LEGATEES, &c., &c.—We have received from Messrs. F. H. Dougal & Co., Strand, London, W.C., a book, with the above title. It appears that Messrs. Dougal & Co. have for a long time been engaged in hunting up owners for estates which were going a-begging—a large number, even in these times of distress. The book, which is published at a moderate price, will interest many thousands of persons.—Sheffield Daily Telegraph, December 3rd, 1878.

NEXT-OF-KIN, &c.—INDEX TO ADVERTISEMENTS.—To those who are willing to risk a little money in a lottery, this is a most useful book, and on payment of a small fee, the particulars are supplied; and a prize in such a lottery would be worth trying for.—Irish Law Times and Solicitors' Journal, February 1st, 1879.

INDEX TO ADVERTISEMENTS FOR CLAIMANTS TO MONEY AND PROPERTY.—It may be the means of putting persons in possession of that which has been intended for them. Readers of this Index may find a fortune in its pages! There is keen interest in the pages of this admirable issue, which is felt, we presume, by all persons.—Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper, March 29th, 1879.

NEXT-OF-KIN.—£77,600,000 UNCLAIMED,

And representing an amount of needless suffering that can be fully appreciated by those who have studied the subject long and deeply. Now-a-days, when every country in the world is accessible, relations are frequently separated by such long distances, and for so long a period as to be, in the course of years, entirely lost sight of, and many persons have reached foreign lands in abject poverty, who have died there as millionaires. In many cases, these rich men have left poor relations at home, and to whom they would have left their wealth had they been aware death was near, or had they even had the forethought to make their wills as soon as money had been acquired; but this not having occurred, and no tidings of their doings having reached their relations, for want of next-of-kin, the money has remained unclaimed. Many a man is now, with his family, starving, who is heir to a large fortune; many a woman is plying her needle by day and night to gain a miserable existence, who is next-of-kin to a deceased millionaire, and many are eating the "pauper loaf" who should be independent of even the proceeds of mental or physical toil. Aware of these facts, Messrs. DOUGAL & CO., of 37, Strand, London, have issued a register containing the names of persons who have been advertised for to claim property and money since 1760.

The Register, which is most carefully and ably compiled, and handsomely bound in cloth, may be the means of securing a life-long competence or a fortune.

From references we have seen, we are satisfied that Messrs. DOUGAL & Co. have been the means of people recovering money.—North-Western District Advertiser, 30th August, 1884.

DORMANT FUNDS IN CHANCERY, £77,693,769.

The following is an extract from an Article in THE TIMES, July 4th, 1884.

VERY few persons have any conception of the enormous sums of money which pass through the hands of the Paymaster-General in Chancery, and of which a very considerable proportion remains permanently under his control through the absence of the parties immediately interested, and the absence of their next of kin. So far as the Court of Chancery was concerned, it could do nothing towards restoring to their rightful owners those properties which, from various causes, had been placed and had remained in its coffers as the highest repository of absolute security and public faith. So long as the actual obligants, trustees, or wards survive there is always the guarantee of the effectual discharge of an onerous trust, and with it the conference on the public of an enormous, and in many cases a quite inestimable obligation. But once a case is dormant, from whatever cause, the Court can take no initiative, and the funds or property originally confided to it in trust remain practically inaccessible to those who would be its rightful owners. The publication of these triennial lists is the first step yet taken towards facilitating the discovery and recovery of these funds, which represent a certain and increasing percentage of the Chancery returns. Those returns show a steady and continual growth, and although there are no published data to reveal the exact amount of dormant funds, there is no doubt that it swells in proportion to the total payments into the Chancery exchequer. The latest official returns of Chancery payments and receipts show that whereas in February 1873, there was a balance in hand of £65,390,747, this sum had risen at end of February, 1883, in the course of ten years, to £77,693,769, represent an increase of more than 12 millions sterling in that portion of the national capital which, if not absolutely unfructifying, is still unproductive for public or public advantage. Of these 12 millions a certain percentage will be dormant for ever, while of the whole 77 millions that were on balance at the early part of last year not far short of one million comes under the category, and is included in the present list—that is to say, each separate entry relates to a sum of more than £50 which has lain dormant for the space of years.—The Times, July 4th, 1884.

There are thousands of persons in all parts of the world who have no conception of the enormous sums of money they are entitled to.

F. H. DOUGAL & CO. undertake to hunt up old Wills, Records, etc., and give their best attention to all cases entrusted to them for investigation and collection.

A Money Order or Cheque should accompany all instructions to search, as a considerable time has to be occupied in thoroughly investigating and sifting intricate cases.

AN AMERICAN MILLIONAIRE.

It is reported that Mr. John Jacob Astor has transferred all his estate to his son, Mr. William Waldorf Astor, the United States Minister to Italy, reserving to himself merely an annuity of 100,000 dollars. The total value of his estate is unknown, but it is probably 70,000,000 dollars (about £14,000,000 sterling), and it consists mostly of real estate in New York City. The objects of this step are said to be to preserve the estate in its integrity, to prevent litigation about his will, and to conceal the value of his possessions.—Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper, September 9th, 1883.

DEATH OF A MISER.

An inquest was held at Well, Yorkshire, on Tuesday, by the county coroner, on the body of Richard Scurrah, blacksmith, aged 63 years. The deceased, who lived in a hovel near the village, not having been seen for some days, the house was broken into by the police, who found him dead in bed. On the premises being examined, upwards of £3000 was found upon a beam in the kitchen, and mortgage deeds for several hundreds of pounds were also found in an old chest. As the deceased had no relatives, the whole of the money will go to the Crown.—Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper, February 18th, 1883.

A FORTUNE FOR SOMEONE.

Inquiries have recently been made to discover the lawful heir to a fortune left by a man named Taylor, or Tylor, who having made a fortune out in the sugar plantations of the West, died some fifteen or sixteen years ago, leaving all his money to his wife. She died within the last twelvemonth, leaving her money to Daniel Frost, of Suffolk. The result of the inquiries up to the present has been the discovery of two persons, either of whom may be the heir. One is Joseph Frost, of Ipswich, in the employ of the Dock Commission, and living at the small rectory house at the end of the Promenade, a nephew of Daniel Frost, of Ipswich, who had some relatives of the name of Tylor, who went across the Atlantic forty-eight years ago. The other is Joseph Frost, of Woodbridge, nephew to Daniel Frost, of Woodbridge. He had relations of the name of Taylor, who went out fifty-one years ago. Although Joseph Frost of Ipswich and Joseph Frost of Woodbridge are distantly related, it seems that Taylor and Tylor are two distinct persons. The amount of the fortune is not known.—Suffolk Chronicle, December 21th, 1881.

A CHESTER CABMAN.

The wife of Joseph Wright, a Chester cabman, has just received notice that a brother who died abroad had left her £11,000.—Illustrated London News, March 26th, 1881.

A WINDMILL FOR THE PRINCE OF WALES.

A gentleman named Thomas Canning having died in Cornwall, intestate, and without issue, application was made on Tuesday, January 13th, 1880, to the Probate Court, that letters of administration should be granted to the Prince of Wales on the part of the duchy. This was the first instance of such an application being made; but as the Crown offered no opposition, the application was granted.—Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper, January 17th, 1880.

CLAIMANTS WANTED.

The London Gazette of December 31st contains lists of sums held by the War Office on account of the personal estates of various soldiers deceased, which are published with a view of inducing the legal claimants to the amounts to apply for them. The Morning Advertiser remarks:—"We have more than once pointed out that so long as the said lists are only published in the Gazette and the Army List, the object of their publication will certainly not be generally answered. The only people who take in the Gazette or see the Army List are the very ones who cannot by any chance be the claimants to the outstanding sums. One list, for instance, is published in Tuesday's Gazette for the fifth time. The amounts referred to in it are not large, we admit; but such sums as £15 15s. 9d., and £32 7s. 4d. would not so long remain unclaimed, we think, were it known throughout the country that they were due to the Next of Kin of John Quirk and James Powell; whilst Private Michael Banner, of the 63rd Regiment, and Christopher Nelson, of the 19th, £14 16s. 8d., and £42 15s. 6d., respectively. Many more heirs might be found were a little of the unclaimed money devoted to making the lists we refer to more generally known."—Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper, January 4th, 1879.

Cleethorpes

Dear Sir

Having had the pleasure of reading one of your books on the large fortunes in Chancery & seeing the name of Mr. Thomas Wheatley is advertised for, I thought that I would just drop you a line as we have had the pleasure of having had some through your advertising some 7 years since from a Grandmother, & I see that you have been advertising my Grandmothers name again a few months since.

I shall be only too pleased to pay you well for your trouble,
Yours faithfully,
Thomas Wheatley.

RE MYCOCK, DECEASED.

Mr. Bayford applied for letters of administration to be granted to the next of kin on the presumption of death, in the following circumstances. Mr. Edward Mycock, upon the death of his father, a farmer, succeeded to some freehold property, and subsequently went out to the Russo-Turkish war, he belonging to the Hospital Ambulance Corps. Nothing more was heard of him, although every inquiry was made. At last the late Dr. Lamson, who was known to have been in attendance upon the wounded during the campaign, was applied to whilst he was in prison pending his trial for the murder of his brother-in-law, Percy St. John, at Wimbledon. He was shown a photograph of the deceased, who, in his affidavit, he stated he recognized as that of an Englishman who was captured by the Russians in a wounded condition. In the course of a conversation the deceased told Dr. Lamson that he came from the north of England, and said that his name was Mycock. He was then lying in the hospital at Sistoia, and afterwards Dr. Lamson learnt that he died. Sir James Hannen granted the application, presuming death since October, 1877, the last time the deceased wrote to his friends.—Daily Telegraph, February 21st, 1883.

AN IRISH MILLIONAIRE.

Administration was granted on Monday, in the Probate Court, Dublin, to three nephews, the next of kin of the late Mr. Wyse, the millionaire, of Cork, who died intestate. The personal estate amounts to £2,000,000, and the real estate to £2,000,000 more.—Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper, April 2nd, 1882.

DUCHESS OF CORNWALL.

A suit involving claims to a very large amount of money and an estate producing several thousands per annum, will shortly come before the Court of Chancery. By a will made eighty years ago much property in Cornwall passed to a lady whose eccentricities were notorious. She claimed to be Duchess of Cornwall, and always refused to take coin with the Queen's head on it. On one occasion she refused to allow her carriage in Hyde Park to be turned aside in order to let her Majesty's pass. She was at last declared a lunatic, and so was her only son, who is still allowed £25,000 a year by the Court of Chancery. The claimants are seeking to establish their rights to the accumulations, which amount to over £180,000, and at the death of the son there will be a hard fight over the estates.—Daily Telegraph, April 8th, 1882.

WILSON FAMILY.

About twelve months ago an advertisement was inserted in the papers for the heirs of Mr. W. Wilson, once of Bury House, Searisbrick, who died abroad, aged sixty, without issue. The will was drawn in favour of the deceased's father and his heirs, but the estate ultimately went into Chancery. Four applicants have already appeared. The property is said to be worth one and a-half millions.—Daily Telegraph, Feb. 7th, 1882.

RE PERTON.

The will of Mr. George Perton, a retired Birmingham manufacturer, has just been proved under £260,000. Only £69,000 is bequeathed. The vicar of Prestbury, so well-known in connection with a Ritualist persecution now pending, receives a legacy of £2,500. Mr. Perton having been one of his parishioners in the latter part of his life.—Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper, December 11th, 1881.

CHANCERY ROMANCE.

Another Chancery romance is promised. According to a report from Gosport, a man named Geary, who has for the last five-and-twenty years been employed in a brewery there, has laid claim to an estate which has been locked up for eighty-six years, and now amounts to the handsome sum of a million and a-half sterling. One of the most remarkable incidents in connection with the case, is that Geary was led to become a claimant through seeing an inscription on a tomb-stone in a local churchyard. Several unsuccessful attempts have already been made to secure this fortune, and the result of the Gosport brewer's claim will be looked for with much interest.—Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper, Jan. 22, 1882.

UNCLAIMED MONEY AT THE CAPE.

Ten thousand pounds of current coin of the realm are urgently appealing, through the medium of the Crown agents in South Africa, to society at large for somebody to take possession of them. They constitute a long list of "unclaimed balances" formerly belonging to persons who no longer reside upon the territories of Cape Colony, and comprise a considerable variety of sums, ranging between nine hundred and ninety-one pounds, and three shillings and ten pence. These sums, one and all, are, so to speak, going a-begging, and really, considering the hardness of the times, too wide a publicity can scarcely be given to the Crown agents' advertisement announcing that the heirs of such missing local celebrities as "Jack, a Zulu," "Lamckaul, a Hottentot," "Adams, a Manatee," and "Simon of Malmaesbury," may "hear of something to their advantage" by application to the proper quarter. The inheritance of Adams cannot but be coveted by candidates for the favours of the fair sex; while historical students and confirmed topographers may be disposed to compete warmly for the property of a gentleman whose curiously composite name leaves it doubtful whether he be descended from William of Malmaesbury or Simon the Cellarer.—Daily Telegraph, December 16th, 1880.

A recent issue of the London Gazette contains a list of persons who have died intestate at the Cape, leaving money to which their next of kin are entitled. The total is about £200,000, and some of the names have been published in the Gazette for nearly thirty years without bringing forward the right claimants.—Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper, December 19th, 1880.

The List of Unclaimed Money mentioned in the above paragraphs is in the possession of Messrs. F. H. DODGAL & Co. The charge for searching through same will be five shillings.

TESTIMONIAL.

E. T. DUFAUR,
SOLICITOR.

Cosmopolitan Chambers
Queen Street,

Auckland, 16th June 1894.

Dear Sirs,

Your letter of the 30th April last has been received. The Register compiled and published by your firm is of very great value & the facilities you afford enable individuals at a small cost to ascertain whether it is worth their while to follow up their enquiries —

In my own case I may state that my Mother was entitled to money that for upwards of fifty years had been lying unclaimed in the Accountants' Office in Chancery — I had received a hint to that effect but took no steps to ascertain whether or not such statements were correct —

Seeing one day your Book in our Supreme Court Library here, I noticed my Mother's Maiden name as that of one who was entitled to money, and with this confirmation I at once placed the matter in the hands of my London Agents, who were successful in obtaining what should have been paid more than half a century ago.

I do not think I should have prosecuted my enquiries had it not been for the confirmation given by your book, and I therefore think it is to be regretted that it is not more generally known, as undoubtedly, owners would be discovered for much of the large amount of money lying unclaimed —

Yours faithfully,

J. H. Duffour

TESTIMONIAL.

10 Gurnsey Terrace,
Northampton,
1st Sept 97

Dear Sirs

It gives me great pleasure to testify to the utility of your Index to Advertisements for Merch of Kin.

It came into my hands accidentally last Month and by its means I was enabled to trace the estate of a relative who died over fifty years ago.

I think, with many of your correspondents that it is a pity that so useful a work is not better known.

You are quite at liberty to make any use of this letter that you may think fit.

Yours faithfully
W. F. Fawcett (Major)

Next-of-Kin.—CLARKSON—GARDNER.—Wanted Relatives of HANNAH CLARKSON, daughter of JOSEPH and HANNAH CLARKSON.—She married Rev. WILLIAM GARDNER of Chelsea, 1750-1760.—Apply to ———, London.—The Times.

THE OLD LADY OF STAMFORD STREET.

At length it has become known what are the provisions of the will of the "Old Lady of Stamford Street," whose death in a dilapidated house in that street created some attention when it was ascertained that she had been possessed of considerable wealth. She was the owner of other property in London besides that in Stamford Street, but it now appears that certain other property which for many years was allowed to run to waste in Snow Hill, Stoke Newington, and other places, and which was also supposed to belong to her, did not do so. She died worth about £100,000 in the funds, had many household and leasehold houses, and there was quite an olla podrida of curiosities found in her house when search was made for some other will. Amongst other things there was a room full of caps and bonnets, some of the latter nearly half a yard long (pikes of a former generation), and in a canvas bag was found £500 in sixpenny, farpenny, and threepenny pieces. She had quarrelled many years ago with all her relations, and her will was as follows:—"I, Cordelia Angelina Read, of Stamford Street, in the county of Surrey, spinster, do hereby give and bequeath to the treasurer for the time being of the Hospital for the Cure of Consumption at Brompton, in the county of Middlesex, for the use of the said institution, all my household furniture, pictures, goods, chattels, trinkets, jewellery, and effects, which may be in my dwelling house in which I may reside at the time of my decease, and also all my ready money at the bankers, and money in the public securities or funds in Great Britain, and also all other of my personal estate and effects which I can leave or bequeath to such an institution." The will was executed on the 10th of December, 1858. By this will the sum of £100,000, or thereabouts, goes to the Brompton Hospital, and the rest of the property is now in course of litigation, there being considerable difficulty in ascertaining who are entitled. The nearest known relatives are Mr. Albert William Beetham, a barrister, and the recorder of Dorchester, and his two sisters. It is understood that Mr. Robert W. Johnson, solicitor, of 22, Bedford Row, London, who acts for the next of kin, has given the names of all parties known to be relatives of the deceased, and an application will be made to Lord Penzance to order the parties above named to attend and give visa voce evidence of the history and family of deceased as far as known to them.—Liverpool Mercury.

A CLAIMANT TO A HIGHLAND ESTATE.

It is said that the appearance last week of a claimant to one of the largest estates in Inverness-shire created some stir, and afforded material for a considerable amount of gossip in the Highland capital, and in different parts of the county. The claimant is at present in the North, endeavouring, it is understood, to establish his claim.—People's Journal.

WHAT WILL HE DO WITH IT?

The English plasterer, who has been left a fortune estimated at £1,400,000 by a relative in Australia, has been discovered at Kettering, in Northamptonshire. His name is John James Pearce, and until a few weeks ago he lived at the Parish of Kingsthorpe, a hamlet of Northampton. He lodged with a lady named Weston, after the decease, a few months ago, of his wife, who committed suicide—fear of poverty was ascribed as the cause of her act. Last Sunday, while reading he came across a paragraph announcing that a Sydney Clergyman had left £1,400,000 to a man in England named Pearce. "Why," exclaimed the plasterer to his landlady, "that's me; he's my uncle, that money belongs to me!" His identity has already been acknowledged by the London Agents of the Australian Solicitors to the deceased millionaire. Pearce leaves England for Australia in the course of a day or two. He worked for several master plasterers in Northampton, and is described by his fellow-workmen as a quiet reserved fellow, a teetotaler, and gave people the idea that he had seen better days.—The Daily Telegraph, September 11th, 1889.

A WINDFALL.

A Southwark correspondent states that the brother of a Police-sergeant in the M Division has just come in for a fortune of £20,000, which has been lying in Chancery.—Lloyd's Newspaper, April 14th, 1889.

A LUCKY LONDON SANDWICH MAN.

The Irish Times says that a London sandwich man, who was formerly an officer, and a man of large property, but for some years past a placard bearer at a shilling a day, has succeeded to an estate of £10,000 a year.—Lloyd's Newspaper, October 27th, 1889.

A TUBEMAKER HEIR TO £60,000.

A man named William Austin, 76 years of age, and residing in Trowse Lane, Wednesday, is said to be the lawful heir to £60,000, which was left to his father and uncle about 50 years ago by a man named Abraham Austin, who is said to have amassed a fortune in the banking business in America. The father and uncle not being able to sustain their claim through want of funds, the money went into Chancery. Advertisements have recently appeared in several newspapers asking for the next heir, and as his father and uncle are both dead, William Austin, the tubemaker, claims to be the lawful heir.—The Weekly Times and Echo, August 31st, 1889.

WINDFALL TO A DUSTMAN.

An Acton dustman, named Robert Perry, for some years in the employ of the Local Board has, it is announced, through the death of an uncle, become the heir to freehold property of the value of upwards of £20,000.—The Daily Chronicle, 20th May, 1889.

A STRANGE STORY.

A report comes from Sydney that a man named George Winch has just come into a considerable amount of property in a somewhat remarkable manner. He has been following the occupation of a butcher for some time, and it appears he recently took the liberty of kissing one of his customers—a good looking girl who dealt at his shop. She resented the affront, and had Winch prosecuted for assault. He was heavily fined by the local magistrates, and the case attracted much attention from the press. The publicity given to the proceedings happened to arrest the notice of a firm of solicitors in Sydney, who had been appointed trustees of certain property which had been left to Winch by a distant relative some 19 years ago, and the solicitors were unable to find any trace of the heir. Winch was communicated with by the firm, and he has now furnished the history of his antecedents, and established his identity beyond doubt.—The Daily Chronicle, October 8th, 1889.

FORTUNE FOR AN OMNIBUS DRIVER.

A Leeds omnibus driver has received news of a windfall of £7,000, which comes to him under extraordinary circumstances. The recipient is named George Chapman, 27 years of age, who lived near Roundway Road, and his benefactor is a man he has not seen for several years. Formerly Chapman was in the habit of visiting a hostelry at Sheepscar, where he became friendly with a middle aged man, who lived in Chapel Town Road. When they left the Inn at night, Chapman would often walk along with his friend part of the way home, sometimes seeing him safe to his residence. On these occasions the man would sometimes say he would not forget him—"there would be a nice thing for him some day." But Chapman attached no importance to these utterances, especially as his companion did not appear to be much above the rank of a working man, consequently, Chapman was considerably astonished when he received a communication from a solicitor, informing him that £7,000 has been left to him by the gentleman he used to see safely home. It appears that the testator died possessed of £12,000, and the remaining £5,000 has been left to a church in the neighbourhood he used to live in.—The Daily Telegraph, November 21st, 1889.

A SOLDIER'S FORTUNE.

The story is current that a private in the Scots Fusilier Guards has suddenly come into an immense fortune. The intelligence reached a lawyer that a gentleman of vast wealth had died in India without leaving a will behind him. Upon inquiries, the solicitor saw reason to believe that a shepherd at Dunrobin was the next heir. On the intelligence being communicated to him, the canny Scot declined having anything to do with the business; but, he said, "I have a son in the Scots Fusilier Guards; you may go to him and see what he will do." The lawyer went, and receiving an order from the son, sailed for India, where he found that the private in the Guards had come into a property estimated at from £700,000 to £1,000,000.—Glasgow Citizen.

A FUTURE CLAIMANT.

The St. Paul (Minnesota) Press says: "Here's a little romance of real life, the truth of which can be substantiated. During last fall a man was employed as a labourer on the main line of the St. Paul and Pacific Railroad, who is a member of the British aristocracy, and heir-presumptive to one of the oldest baronetcies in Great Britain. The freaks of this young man are unaccountable. He is and has been well supplied with money, and is still in the State, spending much of his time in St. Paul, Minneapolis, and other places. What his next movement will be remains to be seen. F. R. C. are the initials of this odd sprig of nobility."—Manchester Weekly Times.

A London correspondent says: "The Rev. Arthur Hall had a sensation for his congregation at Tolmer Square yesterday. He announced dramatically that he had had a legacy left to him for his schools near Tottenham Court Road of £2000. Three years ago he spent an hour's eloquence in trying to persuade a rich gentleman that he ought to help in building girls' schools. The result was a covenant. A few months ago the gentleman died, leaving all his property to "charities." Mr. Hall put in a claim, but found all the funds in Chancery. He wrote at once an appealing letter to the trustees. They recommended him to the Master of the Rolls, who gave him £2000 down. Mr. Hall announced this to his congregation yesterday, and when he had finished his story the congregation replied by singing an impromptu Te Deum.—The Manchester Evening News, April 22nd, 1879.—55-27.

Our Leigh correspondent stated that, under the will of the late Mr. Hatton, Manchester, John Hatton, a working-stonemason in the employ of Messrs. J. Collins and Sons, contractors, Warrington, comes into possession of about £50,000. There are eight other relatives who are entitled to the same amount. Hatton was recently engaged at a new mill at Leigh, and is now working in Liverpool.—The Manchester Courier, April 11th, 1879.—35-27.

The Baltimore Sun quotes from a local paper a paragraph relating to the death of James Stratton, at Elbridge Landing, in Howard county, on the 9th instant. Stratton was well known to almost everybody in the district on account of his eccentric habits. He was about seventy years of age, and lived entirely alone in an old house in the village which he had built some thirty years ago. A few years before he came to this country from Scotland, and went to school in New Brunswick county, from whence he moved to Elbridge Landing. With a large estate he is said to have purchased a tract of fifty or sixty thousand dollars, he died surrounded by squab, wretchedness and filth. He is not known to have any living relatives. A Baltimore correspondent informs us that Stratton was a servant of Edinburgh, and before emigrating to America resided in the vicinity of Leith Wynd—The Star, Sep. 26th, 1873.—40-27.

Dear Sir

I wrote to you some few months ago enquiring about an unclaimed fund in Chancery - They say, that through the efforts of your agency I recovered the money - I cannot speak too highly of the trouble you took, and also of the promptitude with which you got the affair settled.

I should have known nothing about this money if it had not been for your book "Index Register to unclaimed money & property" - It has been of great benefit to me in bringing to light money which has been lying dormant for 27 years. I shall certainly recommend my friends to obtain copies of it. Believe me

Yrs faithfully

Emily Arislie.

A RELIGIOUS REQUEST.

A great stir is being made in Scotland just now about the administration of a fund left for religious purposes some time since called the Ferguson Bequest, and the Glasgow Herald gives some interesting particulars of the individual by whom it was devised. Mr. Ferguson had no claims to the title of philanthropist till he was on his death-bed. His chief pleasure in life seems to have consisted in amassing an immense fortune, and something of niggardiness marked his conduct in that not very amiable pursuit. When he was worth hundreds of thousands he could squabble like a beggar for a sixpence. He was too grasping to enjoy his wealth, but he seems also to have been of too shrewd a disposition to be able to feel all the raptures of the miser. He used to say to his friends, "I am a poor rich man—burdened with money, but I have nothing else." He was in the act of signing a cheque for ten thousand pounds when he was struck with paralysis, and the cheque remained after his death with only half of his signature appended. He remembered on his death-bed the poor relations whom he had forgotten during his lifetime, and he made amends for his neglect of the interests of religion and charity or some noble bequests. Upwards of a hundred private persons, some of them already in good circumstances, shared in his wealth, but the sudden transformations which took place amongst many of them, from poverty to affluence, were both astonishing and amusing. Day labourers, masons, grocers, and in one case, a poor hawker of fish, became possessors of thousands. More than half a million of money was thus disposed of. Mr. Ferguson's great religious bequest somehow seems like a lump sum paid to Heaven for oversights, during a long, intensely worldly, and even mean sort of life. He was not what is called a religious man. Some have asserted that he was a member of the Church of Scotland; but the Herald believes it would be more correct to say that he had not been within the walls of a church for forty years before his death. When near the close of his life his stoical indifference "to these things" broke down somewhat, but too proud to go to church, he actually asked a minister of Irvine, who was at the time preaching on the Sunday evenings in the streets, to come opposite his door and deliver his sermon there. And this "poor rich man," wrapped up in shawls, sat in the lobby and listened to it. This was the man who left about £100,000 for the spread of the Gospel, who made it a condition that the trustees should be communicants of the churches which they represented, and who was specially careful to note in his will that the books of the fund should be balanced every year, on the 31st of December, except when that day fell upon a Sunday.—The Manchester Weekly Times, December 29th, 1866.—40-27.

An authentic copy of the advertisement calling upon the legatees of Mr. Ferguson will be supplied for £1.

Re GLADSTONE DECEASED.

After the death of Miss Henry Gladstone last year, the administration of her estate was granted to the Premier, and Sir Thomas Gladstone, her brother, in the belief that she had died intestate. Since then a Will, dated in 1832, has been found, and some correspondence with Cardinal Wiseman, including the draught of a Will, dated 1855. There was no evidence of the latter Will having been executed, and the executors under the Will of 1832 are dead. Accordingly, on Tuesday, in the Probate Court, the former letters of administration were revoked, and fresh letters were granted to the two gentlemen already named, for the administration of the estate under the Will.—Illustrated London News, March 26th, 1871.

£14,000 FOR A LABOURER.

A labouring man named Brown, living at Ashford, Kent, has just come into a fortune of £14,000 by the death of a relative. He has for years past been earning 18/- a week.—The People.

AN UNEXPECTED FORTUNE.

The death of an aged relative in Australia has unexpectedly brought a fortune of several thousand pounds to a poor Penzance family named Rowe.—The Pilot, November 26th, 1890.

A HORSEKEEPER'S GOOD FORTUNE.

A horsekeeper, named Frenke, who has been in the service of a firm of mineral water manufacturers at Barking, Essex, has just received an intimation, through a firm of London solicitors, that he has come into a fortune of about £20,000. He has been advised that an uncle of his has died in America, leaving property to the value of some £30,000, to be divided between him and two other members of his family. Frenke has to go to America to prove his title and the offer of an advance to enable him to do this has been gladly accepted.—Liverpool Post, November 11th, 1890.

A WINDFALL.

George Osbaldstone, of Leigh (Lancs.), a blacksmith by trade, but who has lately been employed as ostler at the George and Dragon Inn, Leigh, has received the gratifying intelligence that he and his two sisters have, by the death of a great-uncle, come into a fortune of £12,000 and two rows of large shops in London. The property is divided amongst the parties in equal proportion.—Daily Chronicle, April 2nd, 1890.

REMARKABLE RECENT WINDFALLS.

Some remarkable "windfalls" have recently come to various persons, varying in rank from the Queen to the peasant: £100,000, or forty lakhs of rupees, to Her Majesty from an Indian prince towards the protection of our Indian frontiers from Russian advance. £50,000 to Her Majesty as a "Woman's Dress Offering." In addition to numberless presents of untold value from all sorts and conditions of men and women. £3,000,000 to Mr. McMahon, a popular subaltern in the Scots Guards, from his uncle, the late Mr. Hugh M. Calmont. £100,000 to the St. George's Hospital, from the same source. £20,000 to Mr. Thomas F. Burke, of Kent, from the late Mr. Samuel B. Leam (in no way related to him), who died in New Zealand. £200,000 to a step-daughter, named Thompson, in consequence of the death of his brother. £75,000 to the University College, London, from the late Mr. Richard Quinn, F.R.S. £20,000 to a railway ganger, of co. Kilkenny, in consequence of a decision of the Irish Court of Appeal, £40,011 7s. to the creditors of James H. Comland, who failed in 1889. £10,000 to the Chancellor of the Exchequer, "to be applied towards extinguishing the National Debt," from the late Mr. O'Reilly Deane. £200,000 "to the poor of Newry," from the late Mr. Henry Quinn, of Richmond, Surrey.—Tit-Bits, December 3rd, 1897.

A SPLENDID WINDFALL.

A windfall is announced to two Cornishmen—Mr. Williams, of the Royal Cornwall Sailors' Home, Falmouth, and Mr. J. M. Williams, bookkeeper, of Fowey. Their brother, Mr. Richard Williams, who was born in Helford, near Falmouth, and who left England for Australia about 35 years ago, died not long ago without a will, leaving a large fortune—some £53,000 in cash, and lands and bonds of the estimated value of £120,000. The brothers mentioned above are the next-of-kin, and their friends are already congratulating them on their succession to so large and unexpected a fortune.—Blackburn Evening Express, December 30th, 1889.

A ROMANTIC STORY.

A Penzance correspondent states that in 1832 Wm. David Brown, a fisherman, of Newlyn, near Penzance, was drowned, and the the same night his wife died of cholera. They left two orphan lads, James and Peter. The latter fought at Alma, Balaklava, and Inkerman, was at the siege of Lucknow, and through the Kadir war. James has just died in America worth £400,000, leaving the bulk of his property to his widow and son, but he has bequeathed £18,000 and some shares and other property to Peter Brown. The brothers had not met since before 1850, and did not hear from each other for twenty-three years.—Daily Telegraph, January 4th, 1890.

A WINDFALL FOR A BLACKSMITH.

The Exchange Telegraph Company is informed from Guildford that a blacksmith named Barber, living at Albury, near Guildford, has just obtained a windfall of £10,000.—Ilford's Weekly Newspaper, January 5th, 1890.

The owner of a very valuable pair of trousers is just now being advertised for in the French papers by the honest finder of the same, who allows the individual to whom they belong to call on days in which to come forward. After this delay, he states, he will consider himself justified in profiting by this strange misadventure, which, as he is in poor circumstances, and about to embark, will be very serviceable to him. On the Place de la Concorde, he relates, he saw the other evening a dark object on the ground, which he first took to be a sleeping dog. On closer inspection, however, he discovered his mistake, and picked up the garment he now has in his possession. He took the trousers with him on board a ship, which he owns and, on passing them in review, noticed that the buttons seemed different to ordinary ones. Prompted by curiosity, he undid the cloth that covered them, and found instead of wooden moulds, gold pieces. Carrying his investigations further, he came across some bank-notes stitched into the waistband, with other papers of value. One peculiarity he observed was that the knees of the trousers were much worn, as if their proprietor was in the habit of kneeling a good deal. It is certainly a strange tale for a person to tell Neapolitans for booting, and a waistband for a strong box; and stranger still, that doing the best would lose to produce a pair of trousers on the Place de la Concorde. Perhaps the mystery may yet be cleared up; but eight days have already elapsed without any one putting forward a claim to them.—Standard, May 14, 1863.

NEXT OF KIN. HEDDS AT LAW. LEGATHER, &c., &c.—We have received from Messrs. F. H. DUGAN and Co., Stationers, London, W.C., a book with the above title. It appears that Messrs. DUGAN and Co. have for a long time been engaged in business as owners for estates which were being sold off—a large number, even in these times of distress. The book which is published at a moderate price, will interest many thousands of persons.—Sheff. & Daily Telegraph, December 3, 1873.

NOTE OF FIRM, &c.—LETTER TO ADVERTISERS.—To those who are willing to risk a little money for a literary, this is a most useful book, and on payment of a small fee, the particular name is supplied; and no one in such a hurry would be worth trying for.—Irish Law Times and the Journal of the Bar, 1, 1878.

LOOK TO ADVERTISEMENTS FOR CHANCES TO MONEY AND PROFIT.—It may be the means of making you realize the possession of that which has been intended for them. The holders of this paper may find a fortune in the present. There is keen interest in the pages of the advertiser, because which is not, we presume, by all persons.—Michigan Weekly Newspaper, March 26, 1854.

not have known any thing of it.
I have to thank you very kindly

An Irishman named Moore, a native of Clavin, has just died at Ramallo in Buenos Ayres, where, after a residence of 25 years, he has acquired the fortune of £150,000 sterling. By his will two half-brothers living in his native parish of Clavin are raised from a position of poverty to one of wealth. The testator left one quarter of his fortune to his daughter, a niece of his wife; £25,000 to his son, General B. Moore; £25,000 to Cardinal Manning for charitable purposes in Dublin and London; £500 to the poor of his native parish in Ireland; the remainder to be divided between the two half-brothers referred to. His daughter, however, is about to contest the will, and claims one half of the entire property.--The Evening Standard, May 15th, 1885.--83 V.

A New York letter sent by the mail which arrived yesterday, says: "A meeting was held at the Astor House on the 24th by the heirs of the Manhattan Estate, located at Leeds, Maryland, to adopt measures to secure possession of the property. The estate covers an area of six miles in extent, and is said to be worth $100,000,000 or perhaps a little more, the calculation not pretending to be exact. It includes the town of Leeds and a few adjacent villages and hamlets. All that is wanted to enable the heirs to take possession, so the lawyers say, is a certain will, which document the present possessors refuse to give up until they have been paid $20,000. It was resolved at the meeting yesterday to raise this sum, get the will, and take possession of the town of Leeds at once."—Manchester Examiner and Times, August 3rd, 1897.—42-27

The will of Edward James, Q.C., M.P., was proved in the London Court on the 3rd inst. and the personality sworn under £10,000. It is contained in the following words:—"This is my last will, dated July 29th, 1853. I devise and bequeath my estate to my wife, Mary James, her heirs, executors, and administrators, and appoint her the executrix."—The Illustrated News.—41-27.

A young labourer of Montelimart, has just been visited by a singular stroke of good fortune, which has had the immediate effect of depriving him of speech. An uncle, from whom he expected nothing, has left him 15,000 fr. franc. At first another will was found, leaving the bulk of the property between two brothers of the defunct, who, on hearing the news, proceeded to embrace each other, but their happiness quickly evaporated when a testament of more recent date came to light, by which the nephew was entitled to the whole fortune. The young man, who is quite illiterate, was so overcome that he has not spoken since.—Daily Telegraph, January 22nd, 1880.

The Central News says: "An old inhabitant of Wethersbury named Edward Hoapson, a good-natured, but a little eccentric, died on the 12th of 1890, leaving under the will of his only son, Arthur Hoapson, the village of St. Michael, Bideford, where a Wethersbury man has his house, and a large number of almost perfect and choice old time tools, a square of his will, by now soiled and staining. The will was found by a Wethersbury boy last week by accident in New Zealand, and is now in the possession of Mr. Hoapson, whose nephews will immediately sail for New Zealand, to act on his behalf."—Daily Telegraph, October 22nd, 1890.

A young man who was recently engaged as clerk in an auctioneer's office at Huntingdon has just become a bankrupt. He is now Mr. Herbert Blakiston; his seat being, Sandy Bush, Lall, near Ashby-de-la-Zouche, Leicestershire.—Leeds's Weekly Newspaper, December 30th, 1883.

THE GREAT JENNINGS, OR JENNENS CASE.

Acton Place, Near South Merton, in the county of Suffolk, the seat of William Jennens, Esq., was formerly the seat of the Darvells; they sold it to Robert Jennens, Esq., who began to rebuild it; his son William finished it and made it a fine structure. The house now is in Mr. Jennens, but the monuments of all the former owners of the estate are destroyed or shut up from public view.

Humphry Jennens, the grandfather of the late William Jennens, Esq., purchased a family seat at Gopwell, in Leicestershire, and also possessed some very extensive forges at Whitwick, on the edge of Charwood Forest, Bromford Forge and Aston Furnace, also in the county of Warwick, and Hailes Owen iron works, in Shropshire, formed part of extensive concerns.

His house in Birmingham was in High-street, in 1733, in the occupation of John Ryland, Esq.

John Jennens, the father of Humphry, is supposed to have resided at Hailes Owen, and it is conjectured that his predecessors were originally inhabitants of Yorkshire.

The following is an accurate statement of some of his property at the time of his death in the year 1738:

North Sea Stock . . . . .	30,000	Interest on ditto . . . . .	8,725
Ditto, new . . . . .	30,000	Ditto . . . . .	7,850

India stock . . . . .	25,800	Ditto . . . . .	18,570
Consols, 3 per cents. . . . .	50,000	Ditto . . . . .	17,250
Ditto, ditto (his mother's) . . . . .	19,000	Ditto . . . . .	5,450
Bank stock . . . . .	25,000	Ditto . . . . .	19,000
3 per cent. stock . . . . .	30,000	Ditto . . . . .	17,250

Ditto at Child's bank . . . . .	6,000
Ditto at Moore's . . . . .	17,800
Ditto at Stephenson's . . . . .	19,300
Ditto at Gosling's . . . . .	7,000
In London assurance office, 400 shares, due on them . . . . .			3,400
New River concern dividend due . . . . .			5,000
On mortgage . . . . .			200,000
Landed estate, rent due . . . . .			8,000

In addition to the notice of this gentleman's enormous estates, we subjoin the following additional particulars, which will no doubt prove acceptable to our readers:—We stated that dividends on most of his stocks had not been received since 1738, nor the interests on his mortgages for a long time. In his iron chest, the key of which could not be found till after a long search, hid in a mortgage deed, there were bank notes of the year 1738 to the amount of 419,000, and several thousand new guineas. About 220,000 were found in money and bank notes at his town and country houses; and also a key to the chest containing his mother's plate and valuables, which is deposited at Child's, the banker's, and has never been opened since her decease. He is reported to have kept always 250,000 in his banker's hands for any sudden emergency, and had not drawn a draft on the bank for the last fourteen years of his life. A will was found in his coat pocket sealed, but not signed, which was owing, as his favorite servant says, to his master leaving his spectacles at home when he went to his solicitor for the purpose of duly executing it, and which afterwards he forgot to do. By this testamentary instrument, in which John Jennens, Esq., of the first family office, was a residuary legatee, the whole property was intended to be totally alienated from the channels into which it is presumed it will fall.—The Sheffield Daily Telegraph, June 12th and 13th, 1853.

TESTIMONIAL.

Oct 22. 94.
Haledon,
New Jersey.

Mrs T. A. D. Chapman,
Madam,

Yours came to hand and regret to state that Mrs Mary B. Harrison died last January. But in reference to the letter that you saw in the Index book of F. H. Douglass & Company of London it is all right I am her son and am the party who wrote the letter to F. H. Douglass & Co. as ours was almost the first case they had in this location and you may rest assured that every thing stated in said letter is correct. We gave them the Power to collect all moneys due. The fund was in the hands of W. Rackham, Esq., as Trustee.

We found them upright and honest and they did all they agreed to do. We had the British Consul at New York to place the British Seal upon all our papers to insure us that we would get justice as we were not sure there was any thing in the Courts. If you are about to commence obtaining any information in reference to any money I would send for the Advertisement if you have been Advertised for and then you will know what they want you for and perhaps find out what you are entitled to and the full amount, if there is any more information I can give will be pleased to do so.

Very Truly
Louis F. Harrison

TESTIMONIAL.

18 Clayton Buildings,
East Street, Lambeth,
July 4th 1887.

Dear Sirs,

I have great pleasure in testifying that on the 20th of June 1887
I received a sum of money being a share of the Waterloo Bridge Company.

Last March I happened to see my name in your Register of Persons advertised for and applied to you for information.

By your assistance my claim to the amount of money left many years ago by my grandfather, who has been dead for upwards of 70 years, was proved.

I am, Dear Sir,
Yours truly,
James Morrish.

To F. H. Dugut & Co.,
Strand,
London.

THE CHADWICK ESTATE.

---

THE romance of real life is illustrated in a striking manner in the history of Sir ANDREW CHADWICK, Knt., whose property, to judge from the meetings we have recently reported, seems likely soon to be the subject of litigation. He was of Lancashire descent, as perhaps his name would imply, although he was born in the sister isle, and made his name and his fortune in London. One ROBERT CHADWICK, of Carter Place, Finsbury, who died in 1808, had five sons, the oldest of whom, PHILIP, was born in 1804, and died in 1867. PHILIP had an only child, who was born in Ireland in 1864, and to whom he gave the name of Andrew.

When still a young man he removed to London, where, in a comparatively short time, he amassed a considerable fortune and was knighted by Queen Anne. He married, at the age of 31, a daughter of a Mr. Richard Humphreys, of St. Clement Danes, London, but had no children, at any rate none who lived. This, perhaps, has something to do with the fact that as to his real estate Sir Andrew died practically intestate. His personal property was disposed of by his will to friends, with the exception of £5,000, which was left in trust for such of his kindred as should "appear and prove their degree of consanguinity." For many years no one laid claim to his real estate, which was situate mainly in London. The yearly income went on accumulating, and the value of the property advanced until the estate represented a very large sum of money. Many Lancashire Chadwicks have grown up in the belief that a vast fortune awaited them if they could only prove themselves the heirs of Sir Andrew. Several efforts to do so have been made, and in at least one case with success. Between 1841 and 1844 a Mr. John Chadwick, of Westleigh, claimed a portion of the estate, and the Court of Chancery upheld his suit. But it is stated that much still remains for whoever proves to be the heir or heirs-at-law. The death of Sir Andrew took place on the 15th of March, 1768, in Broad Street, Golden Square, London, a little over 122 years ago, a period equal to about four generations. There ought to be no great difficulty in determining who the heirs are.—Manchester Examiner and Times, August 25th, 1890.

QUIST.—The Next-of-Kin of CHARLES ADOLPHUS QUIST, late of Woolwich, in the county of Kent, a Major in the Army, are requested to apply to _____ The said CHARLES ADOLPHUS QUIST died on the 28th day of December, 1821.—London Gazette.

There is great excitement in this vicinity at present about some of our neighbours getting large sums of money which have been deposited by their progenitors in the Bank of Ireland previous to the French Revolution. Already they are in communication with a leading bank establishment in London—Messrs. F. H. Dargatz and Co. We hope that they may succeed in securing the much-needed "stun!"—The Weekly Examiner and Island Argus, Prince Edward Island, January 23, 1885.—76-57.

Two or three years ago a servant in South Kensington, and at the advice of her master and mistress, married a carter. Last week, on inquiry being made by a gentleman who had employed the man, why he did not come and finish his job, it was ascertained that his wife had been left £263,999.—The Scotsman, December 12, 1884.—35-47.

On Thursday an advertisement appeared in the Daily Telegraph to the effect that if a man known as "Charles Dyer," but whose name was Edward Dyer, applied to a certain resident at Croydon, he would be of assistance to his advertisement, one Benjamin Dyer II, with whom he was friendly acquainted. But the Croydoner, having left the city for the day in the bullet boat, returned between 2.00 and 2.30 P. M. and found the Croydoner busy there. The man, however, for is a home address at 28, Victoria road, near the Victoria docks, taking up a position as a member of the press. Henry Dyer, a well-known London "financier," who, however, he could not find, the Croydoner, to leave his name to him, who eventually did. — Daily Telegraph, February 11, 1902.

MORE MONEY FOR GOVERNMENT.

A lady named Austin has died in Paris possessed of property upwards of half a million sterling. She died intestate, and, as there is no next-of-kin, the question of her domicile has arisen, with a view to decide whether her fortune should go to the British Crown or to the Government of the French Republic.—Times of India, August 14, 1883.

Re NICHOLSON.

Mr. R. A. Dayford moved the President for a grant of letters of administration to the estate of Mr. Nicholson, deceased, who died intestate, to his next of kin. The deceased had been a private in the Grenadier Guards, and afterwards a commissionaire. He had amassed during a number of years no less than £26,000 chiefly invested in realty. Upon his decease, and subsequent knowledge by his nephews of the magnitude of the estate for a man of so humble a calling, his remaining and nearer relative, his sister, was cited to appear in the usual way. This she did not do, however, and the President, in granting letters of administration as prayed, remarked that the sister's non-appearance was not the least remarkable feature in the case.—Daily Telegraph, July 9, 1879.

RECOVERY OF MONEY FROM CHANCERY AFTER THE LAPSE OF 138 YEARS.

AN UNEXPECTED INHERITANCE.—Robert Robson, a woodman at Hexham, over sixty years of age, has established, in the Court of Chancery, his right to funds which have been in the custody of the Court for 138 years, and are said to amount now to nearly £250,000. In the early part of last century a brother of Robson's grandfather having married an heiress, a Miss Walker, of Corbridge, went to Manchester, where he began business as a wine and spirit merchant. This lady died without having had issue, as also did another lady to whom her husband was subsequently married. The widower was murdered by "some person or persons unknown," and his property, then large, went into the Court of Chancery, where it has remained until now.—Daily Telegraph, December 16, 1881.

The above paragraph shows that money CAN BE RECOVERED from the Court of Chancery after the lapse of any number of years. In this case the sum of £250,000 has been paid out of Court after remaining UNCLAIMED for upwards of ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY YEARS.

RICH PAUPERS.

Information has just been received that a man under the care of the Exeter guardians is entitled to £5,000. For some time past, however, the poor fellow has been in the lunatic ward, but there appears to be some hope of his recovery. As the lunatic cannot himself move for the recovery of the money, the guardians have decided to take the necessary steps. The man has a sister, who is also in the workhouse.—Mid-Surrey Gazette, July 15, 1882.

NO MORE PARISH RELIEF.

It was to-day discovered at Sedzley that an old woman, named Catherine Walker, residing at Upper Gornal, who has for years been in receipt of out-door relief from the guardians, is the possessor of 1400 yards of valuable freehold land, and steps will be taken by the proper authorities to obtain the deeds, and afterwards sell the land in order to reimburse the guardians for the money given to Walker as relief.—Standard, August 14, 1885.

THE HERTFORD ESTATES.

A compromise has been arranged between the Right Hon. Sir George Hamilton Seymour and Sir Richard Wallace, on the much debated question, now pending before the House of Lords, as to the succession to the late Lord Hertford's Irish estates. The terms of the compromise we understand to be that the estates are to become the property of Sir Richard, who is to pay £200,000 to Sir Hamilton Seymour, £200,000 immediately and £200,000 at the end of two years, with an annuity of £8,000 in the interval before payment of the second £200,000.—Manchester Guardian, July 27, 1872.

LEGACY.—To the orphan children of ADAM RICE (two males and one female). Your aunt ELIZABETH RICE, wife of the late CHARLES MONEYPENNY, died on Nov. 26th, 1874. Being childless, she left you a small estate worth a Few Thousand Dollars. She was a native of the North of Ireland, and was over 60 years old at the time of her death. By communicating with me immediately, you can learn more minutely as to particulars.—Patrick Doyle, Executor, 274, Minna Street, San Francisco, California, America.—Manchester Examiner and Times. December 29, 1875.

A NICE WINDFALL.

A few days ago a man named N. Nolan, who lives at Rock Ferry, and is in poor circumstances, received the gratifying intelligence from a Liverpool solicitor that his only brother, who went to Jamaica some years ago, had died and left him a fortune of £17,000 in cash, besides a large amount of property in that island. The news at first was scarcely credited by the poor fellow, but subsequent inquiries confirmed the fact, and arrangements have been made for him to proceed to Dublin to substantiate his claim and receive the money. His daughter, Jane Nolan, is at present engaged as a servant at the Mitre Inn, Preston, but she will leave with her father.—Liverpool Courier, September 1, 1871.—38-27.

A LOST HEIR.

The following story of a lost heir is told by a Tasmanian Paper, the Cornwall Chronicle: "About seven years ago, in the City of London, a cheesemonger died, leaving cash to the tune of £100,000 to be quarrelled over, fought and disputed for, by the reputed heirs at law. Advertisements were inserted at different times in the English newspapers, and many a claimant à la Tichborne was forthcoming. The lawyers were however not satisfied that any of the numerous claimants were the right men, and what has just transpired proves they were correct in their judgment, as the right man has turned up in the person of the deceased cheesemonger's brother, George Hutley, who arrived in this colony some forty years ago. He was discovered by Mr. H. Stevens, a Victorian barrister, splitting up in the ranges in that colony, taken to Melbourne, shipped on board a steamer, and brought to Launceston, and then taken to Hobart Town, where he was identified as the veritable George Hutley who arrived in Tasmania some forty years ago. After all the necessary documents are procured to prove without a shadow of doubt the man's identity, he will proceed to England to claim his inheritance.—The Manchester Weekly Times, June 14, 1873.—47-27.

Re CHARLTON.—HEIRS WANTED.

On Friday, Dr. Thomas held an inquest at the Badfinger's Head tavern, Marylebone Road, relative to the death of JANE CHARLTON, aged 40. It appears that the deceased was coach and housekeeper to a gentleman named Lea residing at Southam in Kent, and when she was ill or in want of a holiday, she went and stayed at 25, John Street North, Marylebone, where she had a room furnished for herself for that purpose. A week ago she went there, very ill, and died on Thursday, death being due to illness. On the coroner's officer, Mr. Curtis, going to the house, he found a bank book containing deposits amounting to over £84, besides other property about the place, and as yet he had been unable to find any friend or next-of-kin of the deceased. The coroner said, if friends did not come forward, the money and property would be handed over to the Treasury. The jury returned a verdict of "Death from natural causes."—Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper, October 17, 1889.

SINGULAR STORY.

The following episode in humble life has just come to light, in connection with which an inhabitant of Driffield, Mr. Wm. Blakey, is largely interested. Some forty years ago a man named Thomas Blakey, of Bishop Wilton, near Pocklington, "left his country for his country's good," having been convicted and sentenced to seven years' penal servitude for an offence for which he would not now be liable, to more than six months at the treadmill. Blakey left a wife and six children behind him in England to provide for themselves. It seems that Blakey, on obtaining his liberty, made Van Diemen's Land—to which he had been transported—his adopted country, and that he entered into speculations which proved eminently successful. Nothing, however, was ever heard of him by his family until very lately, when information respecting his death and fortunate career was accidentally obtained. His son William, who has resided in Driffield for many years, casually met with a Bishop Wilton man, who recognised him as a playfellow, and expressed much surprise at seeing him in England, as he had been led to expect that all the family had gone to America. Much to Blakey's surprise, the Bishop Wilton man informed him that a letter had lately been received by a gentleman residing in the village from Van Diemen's Land, inquiring for particulars of the family, and requesting certificates of the registers to be procured and forwarded. In consequence of this unexpected information, William Blakey went to Bishop Wilton on Tuesday last to ascertain the truth of what had been told him. He found that his long lost father, after regaining his liberty, had married a woman who went out in the same ship with him, and that he had two sons and one daughter by her; that his father accumulated a large fortune, and, when he died, had left something like £7000 behind him, which, on the death of his wife, who is now sixty-five years of age, will be divisible amongst the deceased's nine children, or their representatives. William Blakey immediately took steps to establish his claims to a share of the property.—People's Journal (Aberdeen), February 23, 1888.

CURIOUS RELIGIOUS OBSERVANCE.

A large congregation assembled last evening in the ancient parish church of St. Catherine Cree, Leadenhall Street, to hear the discourse, known as the "Lion Sermon," which is delivered annually on October 16th, and was on this occasion preached by the rector, the Rev. Dr. W. M. Whittmore, M.A., from Psalm lxxviii., 4th verse. He explained that the service was instituted to commemorate a remarkable interposition of Divine providence. The delivery of the sermon dated from the reign of James I., when Sir John Gayer, a wealthy merchant of London and a constant and liberal benefactor to the church and poor of the parish of St. Catherine Cree, in which he resided, undertook for commercial purposes a tour on the continent of Asia. Amongst other adventures it is related that being one day separated from his companions in the desert of Arabia, Sir John was approached by a furious lion. When death seemed inevitable he fell on his knees and prayed for succour, whereupon the huge beast, instead of attacking him, stopped short, prowled round him, and finally trotted off without in the slightest degree injuring the English knight. Upon his return to London Sir John (who was made alderman of the ward of Aldgate and afterwards became a popular Lord Mayor) bequeathed £200 to his parish church for the relief of the poor, on condition that a sermon should be preached yearly to commemorate the marvellous deliverance vouchsafed to him. The sermon of Sir John Gayer lies in the aisle of the church, and it is intended to mark the spot in some enduring form. The offertory at the service, which was fully choral throughout, was devoted to the expenses of the choir.—Daily Telegraph, October 17, 1885.

TESTIMONIAL.

Hobart
Tasmania
March, 1894

Gentlemen

I have great pleasure in testifying to the promptitude with which your firm has complied with my request for information respecting certain property in England in which I am interested, under the Will of a deceased relative, and I would most certainly recommend all who have the idea that they are entitled to any money as legatees, or beneficiaries under any such Will, to apply to your good selves to make the necessary searches at Somerset House.

Wishing you all success in this, your special line of business, which undoubtedly is the means of conferring pecuniary benefit on thousands who would otherwise have remained in ignorance of their claims.

I am yours faithfully

R. L. Warner

A MISER'S PROPERTY.

An inquiry before the Crown Commissioner was held at Chester yesterday, relating to the property of Abraham Price, who died intestate, leaving property of the value of nearly £1,000. Abraham Price, better known in Chester as "Abraham Hodge, the miser," was for many years in the Chester police force. On his retirement he opened a secondhand bookstall in one of the recesses in the ancient rows of Chester, which was much frequented by Americans and visitors, and by the sale of his books and his miserly habits accumulated the sum under investigation. He lived solely to accumulate money, his objection to a will being the expense. Books filled his house upstairs and down. Every investigation to discover relations having been fruitless, the jury found that he died intestate, and all his property goes to the Crown.—Daily Telegraph, July 23, 1885.

WILL OF THE LATE ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY.

The will (with three codicils) of the late Primate has been proved by the Rev. Randall T. Davidson and Mr. John Hassard, the executors, the personal estate being sworn under the net sum of £35,500. The Stonehouse estate, in the Isle of Thanet, is entailed upon his eldest daughter, and the residue of the personal estate, subject to certain legacies and annuities to servants and others, is settled upon his three daughters.—Lloyd's Weekly News, April 29, 1883.

A WINDFALL TO AN ACTRESS.

Miss Pettifer, who was for some time connected with the City of London Theatre, the old Coburg, and other East-end Houses, and who is, I believe, now fulfilling an engagement at the Britannia, had a welcome slice of luck the other day. Somebody saw an advertisement setting forth that a legacy of £2000 was lying ready for a certain Pettifer. Somebody told Miss P., and she put herself in the hands of Mr. H. J. Jennings, of Lincoln's Inn-fields, who worked away to such purpose that he procured for his client not only the £600 legacy but £350 of accrued dividends.—The Inferee, July 29, 1883.

A BIG SUIT FOR MONEY.

A JERSEY CITY LADY PUTTING IN FOR HALF A MILLION.—At intervals readers of the newspapers hear of somebody falling heir to a large amount of money in Great Britain or the Colonies. By returns presented to the House of Commons of England the amount of the Suitors' Stock and Cash standing in the Court of Chancery is upwards of seventy millions of pounds sterling, or three hundred million dollars of our money. There is also an enormous sum standing at the Bank of England as unclaimed dividends. Large amounts are due to the representatives of persons who have died intestate, and the amount of Army and Navy prize-money unclaimed is nearly 10,000,000 dollars. Messrs. F. H. Dorgal and Co., of 47, Strand, London, have issued a Register containing the names of heirs who have been advertised for as owners of large amounts of these funds. Some time ago Justice of the Peace Henry W. Leonard, of this city, came across an item detailing a meeting of members of the Booth family, held in New Haven, at which sixty persons were present who were supposed to be connected directly or indirectly with the Booths, who, as it is commonly understood, died in England years ago, leaving several millions of dollars to their next-of-kin. Justice Leonard's wife was a Booth, and her father's name was John Orx Booth. A little inquiry led to the belief that this man was one of the heirs to those millions. Justice Leonard sent to England for a copy of Dorgal and Co.'s Register, and upon receiving it, found the name of John Booth set down as heir to £80,000, or 240,000 dollars; but it appears that the source is a little different. A little correspondence revealed the fact that this John Booth, Mrs. Leonard's uncle, was a son of John Orx Booth, the grandfather of Mrs. Leonard. His father was Adam Booth, and his mother was Mary Hegg, or Hague, and it was from her only brother, Joseph Hegg, that a fortune was coming. When Hegg died he left his money to be divided after his wife's death between the children of his two sisters, Mrs. Thatcher, and Mrs. Mary Hegg Booth. The latter had three daughters and a son, John Orx Booth, who was born in England, March 16th, 1810. John Orx Booth came to America with his mother when he was sixteen years old, and at twenty he married Matilda Mott. The issue of the marriage was three children, one of whom was Mrs. Leonard's mother, Esther Booth. John Orx Booth was frozen to death in Manayunk, and therefore his share of Hegg's fortune fell to his children, and Mrs. Leonard's mother was entitled to one third of it. She has four children, Mrs. Leonard, Mrs. Oscar Kipp, now dead, and Mrs. Altman, of this city, and a son in Landusky, Ohio. It is for his mother-in-law's portion of the estate that Justice Leonard has brought a claim.—Jersey Paper.

A WINDFALL OF £4,000,000.

Stories of extraordinary windfalls are so frequently due to an effort of the imagination that we may be excused for receiving them with a considerable amount of reserve. The benevolent testators who bequeath colossal fortunes to persons without any expectations are by no means a numerous class, though it cannot be denied that such eccentric individuals have existed in the world. The latest story of the sudden enrichment of victims of poverty comes from Bolton. If true, it is certainly stranger than fiction. We are told that in 1857 a Mr. Taylor, of Haslingden, died, and left behind him an enormous amount of property. By the terms of his will it was not to be touched until 1881, when it was to be equally divided between two maiden ladies named Isherwood, of Haslingden aforesaid, and one John Seddon, of Bolton. The property has accumulated, till its value is now estimated at four millions sterling. Seddon, we are further told, recently died in the Bolton Workhouse, but his colleagues, the Misses Isherwood, are still alive. In order to credit this remarkable story it is of course necessary to assume that the unfortunate Seddon was not aware of the wealth he was heir to, because if he had known of the existence of Mr. Taylor's will and the nature of its directions, he certainly need not have died in the workhouse. An application to the Court of Chancery on the part of a poor man entitled to great wealth would doubtless have the effect of preventing his becoming dependent upon the poor-rate. The decision given in a recent case proves that the Court has the power to divert a portion of the property of a testator when left subject to conditions similar to those alleged to have been imposed by the late Mr. Taylor, of Haslingden. Possibly, however, poor John Seddon pined away in the workhouse in complete ignorance of the fact that if he lived on a little longer he would be a millionaire. It is stated, however, that there are representatives of the deceased pauper still in the flesh, and that they will come in for his share of the four millions.—Daily Chronicle, May 9, 1881.

CURIOUS WILLS.

The following Extracts from Wills of eccentric persons may interest our readers.

Early in the present century the wealthy Richard Crawshay, of Cyfarthfa, South Wales, "cut off" his son, not "with a shilling," but with a paltry "hundred thousand pounds, instead of making him my executor and residuary legatee." The reason assigned was that the son would never follow his father's advice, and had in very many instances treated him rudely.

In 1797 there died in London a merchant named Peter Thelasson, of foreign extraction, who bequeathed £100,000 to his wife and children, and the rest of his property, amounting to upwards of £600,000, to trustees, with instructions that the money was to be invested and the interest suffered to accumulate until his three sons and all their sons should have died, when the entire property was to be transferred to his eldest great-grandson. In the event of no such heir being then alive, the accumulated property was to be appropriated to the reduction of the national debt. Many calculations were made as to the probable amount which the accumulations were likely to reach, and according to the lowest computation it was believed that the sum would, in seventy years, amount to £19,000,000. The family of the deceased disputed the validity of the will, and some years were passed in litigation, the result being that the document was declared valid, but an Act of Parliament was passed in 1800, rendering null and void all bequests for the purposes of accumulation for longer than twenty years after the testator's death. The last grandson of Peter Thelasson died in 1856, fifty-nine years after the death of the author of the will. Prolonged litigation again ensued, and when, in 1859, the House of Lords decided that Charles Thelasson was the heir, the legal expenses and costs of maintenance were found to have swallowed up the whole of the accumulated profits, leaving to the heir a sum as nearly as possible equal to the original bequest.

David Hume, the philosopher and historian, and John Home, author of "Douglas, a tragedy," were fast friends, and probably descendants of the same family. They disagreed, however, during life, on two points—the spelling of the surname, one holding tenaciously to "o" and the other as strongly to "u"; and while Hume was fond of port wine, Home detested it, giving the preference to claret. About a fortnight before his death, David Hume wrote, with his own hand, the following codicil to his will:—"I leave to my friend, Mr. John Home, of Kilduff, ten dozen of my old claret, at his choice, and one single bottle of that other liquor called port. I also leave him six dozen of port, provided that he attests under his hand, signed John Home, that he has himself alone finished that bottle at two sittings. By this concession he will at once terminate the only two differences that ever arose between us concerning temporal matters."

THE DUCKIT (? DUCKET or DUCKETT) PROPERTY.

This great property, which has been locked up in Chancery for 85 years, until its accumulated value is estimated at one and a half millions sterling, is now claimed by a person named Geary. It now appears that other members of the family are in existence, who claim as issue of another of the co-heiresses. Samuel Duckitt, was Mrs. Forbes' and Mrs. Roberts' great grandfather's brother, and the tradition in the family was that he never was heard of after the last time he went to sea, and he was supposed to have died abroad. Their grandfather had two daughters, one (the eldest) married a Mr. Geary. The other Mrs. Forbes' and Mrs. Roberts' grandmother) married a Mr. Smithwaite. Mr. Smithwaite had only one daughter, who married Charles Alexander Sturgeon, the father of the above named ladies.—Morning Post, January 26, 1882.

THE PETERHEAD WILL CASE.

It is related of Sir Thomas More that he

Had an only son,
 And a foolish lad was that only one,
 And Sir Thomas said, one day, to his wife,
 "My dear, I can't but wish you joy,
 For you prayed for a boy, and you've gotten a boy,
 Who'll continue a boy to the end of his life."

Any one who read the particulars of the Peterhead will case, as reported at length in our paper on Tuesday, must have come to the conclusion that, however foolish Sir Thomas More's son may have been, he could not have been a greater incapable than Roderick Gray, whose bequest of nearly ten thousand pounds to the Aberdeen Royal Infirmary led to the litigation which was stopped on Monday by a compromise being agreed upon by the parties. A refutation of the popular notion that transmission of character is hereditary is presented in the marked contrast that existed between Adam Gray, the Peterhead auctioneer, and his only son Roderick. The father was a man of strong mind, and of cruel and vindictive disposition, while the son was a gentle, inoffensive imbecile, the only marked feature of whose character was a liking for snuff and whiskey. Much was said by the counsel in stating the case for the pursuers as to the influence the father's cruel treatment had in breaking his son's spirit and in bringing him to a state bordering on idiocy. The harsh conduct of Adam Gray would have a certain effect in making his son weak and craven-hearted, but he must have been born a weak-minded creature, for no amount of bad usage would have made him so childish and cowardly as he is represented in the evidence to have been. Even when Roderick was thirty-five years of age he was often flogged with a horse-whip, and had to run from his father to the fields, where, cowering under a hay rick, he sought protection from the servants. The will which the nearest relatives of Roderick Gray sought to set aside was made while his father Adam was yet alive, and was in reality Adam's will; and the theory sought to be supported by counsel in arguing for the reduction of the deed was, that the testator Roderick, though quite at liberty to frame it in accordance with his own inclinations, was afraid to do so, under the silly idea that if he did his father's ghost would appear and would recommence the harsh discipline administered to him before the spirit had left the body. The case in all its details is a singular one, and its settlement by compromise is not the least curious of its features. Instead of getting ten thousand pounds, the Aberdeen Royal Infirmary only gets a little more than half this sum, while the remaining moiety goes to the pursuers, the cousins of "Peel Rory Gray." Both parties being satisfied with this arrangement, it is nobody's business to pursue the case further.—People's Journal (Aberdeen), March 26, 1873.

AN IRISH ROMANCE.

BRIDGET CUNNINGHAM, an Irish girl of sixteen, went to London seeking employment in 1851, and afterwards came to Liverpool, where she married A. Pinn, sailor, who deserted her in 1858, and has not been heard of since. She then sailed for one of the southern states of America, obtained a situation as nurse in a family, and afterwards commenced a boarding-house, by which she made upwards of £1000, and died there without leaving issue. Advertisements have appeared in Liverpool and Irish papers, with the view of discovering her next-of-kin, but hitherto without success.—Liverpool Daily Post, January 9, 1885.

Specimen of Extract showing valuable nature of Next-of-Kin Advertisements.

If JAMES UPTON or THORLEY, formerly of Hazel Grove, Stockport, labourer, aged 23, about 5 feet 7, light brown hair, fresh complexion, blue eyes, who is supposed to have entered the army in 1853 under an assumed name, will apply to ———, he will receive a sum of money from his grandfather's estate. Any person giving correct information of his death, or whereabouts, will be rewarded.—The Times.

CURIOUS WILL.

Bequests of money for the maintenance of pet birds and animals are not uncommon, nor are they to be regarded generally as signs of eccentricity. Some of them, however, are accompanied by oddities of circumstance or expression which fully bring them within the range of our subject. Such was the following, which appeared about half a century ago:—"I bequeath to my monkey, my dear and amusing Jacko, the sum of £10 sterling per annum, to be employed for his sole and exclusive use and benefit; to my faithful dog, Sloop, and my well-loved cat, Tib, a pension of 25 sterling each; and I desire that in the case of the death of either of the three, theapsed pension shall pass to the other two, between whom it is to be equally divided. On the death of all, the sum appropriated to this purpose shall become the property of my daughter, Gertrude, to whom I give this preference among my children, because of the large family she has, and the difficulty she finds in bringing them up."

The following is an Extract from Advertisement.

IMPORTANT.—Should this meet the eye of ALFRED VINEY, formerly of Kidderminster, and supposed to be living in London, or of his mother, who until lately kept marine stores at Deptford, they will hear of something to their advantage, by communicating at once with ———, Kidderminster.—The Daily Telegraph.

CURIOUS WILLS.

In the year 1875, Mrs. Balls, a lady residing at Streatham, after bequeathing liberal legacies to hospitals and other charitable institutions, set apart the sum of £65 a year for the support of her late husband's cob mare, and 25 a year for the care and keep of a greyhound—the mare to be kept in a comfortable, warm, loose box, and not to be put to work either in or out of harness. The will also stipulated that the back of the animal was not to be crossed by any member of the testator's family, but that it should be ridden by a person of light weight, not above four days a week, and not more than one hour each day, at a walking pace.

The peculiarity in most eccentric wills consists less in the disposition of large sums of money than in the odd phraseology in which the bequests are described, or in the strange things which the testators desire to be done by way of signalling their departure from the scene of active life. Thus, according to the Gentleman's Magazine for April 1769, Peter Campbell, of Darley, thus devised certain of his property:—"Now for all such household goods at Darley, whereof John Howson hath an inventory, my will is that my son Roger shall have them all towards housekeeping, upon the condition that, if at any time hereafter any of his brothers or sisters shall find him taking of tobacco, that then he or she, so finding him, and making just proof to my executors, shall have my said goods, or the full value thereof, according as they shall be appraised."

Thirty years ago Her Majesty the Queen was enriched to the tune of about half a million sterling, under the will of John Camden Neild, of Chelsea, a gentleman who had been educated for the Bar. His father, a London goldsmith, was distinguished for his wealth and benevolence. The former he bequeathed to his son in the shape of a legacy of about £250,000; but the son devoted the rest of his days to heaping up riches. His residence, in Cheyne Walk, was meanly furnished, he long slept on a bare board, and died at last on an old stump bedstead. We need not trouble ourselves with any details of his life; they resembled in many particulars the habits usual among misers. There never seems to have been any reason assigned for the will which, passing over the relatives of the deceased, gave his great wealth, with the exception of a few trifling sums, to one who certainly did not need it.

Occasionally the authors of strange wills commit their testamentary intentions to writing in rhyme. Mr. William Jackett was a clerk to a firm of bankers in St. Swithin's Alley, London, where he had lived thirty years. He fell down in a fit and expired in the street, on the 3rd of July, 1789, having during his lifetime directed the disposal of his property in the following manner:—

I give and bequeath,
When I'm laid underneath,
To my two loving sisters most dear,
The whole of my store,
Were it twice as much more,
Which God's goodness has granted me here.

Elizabeth and Ann;
In the name of God, Amen. }

And that none may prevent,
This my will and intent,
Or occasion the least of law racket,
With a solemn appeal,
I confirm, sign, and seal.
This the true act and deed of

WILL JACKETT.

THE WILL OF SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE.

(From the Jewish Chronicle.)

We are enabled to give a brief outline of the will of Sir Moses Montefiore. It was executed in January, 1882, and is of great length, occupying about twenty large folio sheets. The value of the personality is between £350,000 and £380,000. Some of the investments have increased in value during the last few years, and it is provided in the will that the bulk of the investments shall be kept intact, but may, under exceptional circumstances, be transferred to Consols. The testament commences with a touching and characteristic expression of thankfulness to God for having preserved him with unclouded mind and cheerful spirits to his 98th year. He praises God for the mercy vouchsafed to him and prays that the beneficent works which he was permitted to further may continue after his death. He directs that his funeral shall be conducted with simplicity and a careful avoidance of pomp. The executors are Lord Rothschild, Mr. Joseph Sebag, Mr. Arthur Cohen, Q.C., M.P., and Dr. L. Loewe, each of whom are to receive £1000, besides other specific gifts. Mr. Joseph Sebag is the residuary legatee, and to him is bequeathed East Cliff Lodge, Ramsgate, with its appurtenances, grounds, and estate attached, consisting of about thirty acres, which are practically entailed; a proviso being added that if Mrs. Sebag should survive her husband, she is not to be dispossessed. Failing direct heirs male to Mr. Sebag, the property is to pass to Mr. Arthur Cohen, Q.C., M.P., or his sons. The lease of the house in Park Lane, with its furniture, is left to Mr. Arthur Cohen, but the bulk of the pictures are reserved for the Jewish Theological College, Ramsgate. To Mr. and Mrs. H. Guedalla is bequeathed the life interest in about £35,000; after their death half reverts to the estate and half towards endowing the Ramsgate Synagogue. The Jewish Theological College adjoining is also largely endowed. Upwards of £30,000 are bequeathed to the congregational and charitable institutions in Jerusalem and the Holy Land, and about £15,000 to charitable institutions in London and Ramsgate, as well as some gifts to the churches of Ramsgate and neighbourhood. To the Spanish and Portuguese Jews' Congregation (the charities of which are largely benefited) is bequeathed £500, and to the United Synagogue, £1000. About £20,000 are absorbed in various personal legacies, the list of which is very long. Few, if any, of those to whom Sir Moses evinced affection or esteem during his lifetime are forgotten, but many have died since the will was made, although only three years have elapsed. Among the personal bequests are £5000 to his niece, Miss Nellie Montefiore (daughter of Mr. Horatio Montefiore), £1000 to Mr. and Mrs. Isidore Spielman (son-in-law and daughter of Mr. Sebag), £100 each to his many grandnieces and grandnephews, and £500 to the Chief Rabbi and Mrs. Adler. The names of Lord and Lady Hammond and of several clergymen also figure in the long list. All his bequests are left free of legacy duty. His horses and carriages are left to his coachmen, and all his devoted, faithful servants receive annuities or legacies.—Standard, August 7, 1885.

A DUBLIN CONFECTIONER.

James Edwards, a Dublin confectioner, died worth £90,000, of which £37,000 was undisposed of by will, and, being illegitimate, his money went to the Crown; but claimants were invited, and some dozen persons having made a case, his manager received £500 and his employes each a year's pay, amounting altogether to about £1000.—Evening Standard, September 10, 1885.

DEATH OF A MISER.

On Thursday the remains of an independent maiden lady, named Elizabeth Scott, over which an inquest had previously been held by Mr. Carter, were buried at Brockley Cemetery. Deceased had been found by the police lying on the floor of her back kitchen. She had been dead apparently for about a week, portions of her hands having been eaten away by rats. Medical evidence showed that she had died suddenly of disease of the lungs. It was stated that, although deceased—who was 72 years of age, and who lived at 13, Avenue Road, Lewisham—was in possession of upwards of £10,000 in consols, producing an income of £400 a year, she never associated with any one, and a search through the house resulted in sums of £82 in gold, and £4 7s. 6d. in silver being found secreted in little bags between the mattresses of the bed. For many years she had been leading a miserly existence. The house at present is in charge of the police, who will, however, probably hand it over to the solicitors of the deceased. It is believed that she has left no will, and her only known relatives are two cousins living in Scotland.—Examiner and Times, February 6, 1875.

A RUSSIAN MILLIONAIRE.

The Russian nobleman, Count Koucheleff, a man of enormous wealth, and a well-known amateur of art, has just died suddenly at St. Petersburg, from the effects of an apoplectic attack. By his will his vast properties pass to his nephew; and his brother-in-law, the famous spiritualist medium, Mr. Douglas Home, derives no benefit from that document.—The Times, May 31, 1870.

THE WOODMAN'S WINDFALL.

A woodman named Robson, living at Hexham, Northumberland, has just succeeded in establishing his claim to a quarter of a million of money, now vested in the Chancery Court. It seems that in the early part of last century a wine and spirit merchant named Robson married a Miss Walker of Corbridge, and started business in High Street, Manchester, when that street was in the heart of the old town. The lady died in Manchester without issue, and so did another lady to whom Mr. Robson was subsequently married. The whole of his wife's fortunes, therefore, reverted to Robson. From the death of his second wife to old age he lived alone and retired from business, keeping a man and a woman servant only. The servants seem to have conspired together to obtain the fortune of their employer. Foul measures were adopted, and one morning the old man Robson was found dead, having been murdered in the cellar. His watch and all the money on his person was taken, but the murderers got nothing more. The servants went off together out of the country, and were never again heard of. There being no heir, the whole of the fortune went into the custody of the Court of Chancery, where it has remained for 141 years, and now amounts to over £250,000. About three years ago, however, the poor woodman mentioned above discovered that he was a direct heir of a brother of this Mr. Robson, of Manchester, his grandfather having been brother to the wine merchant. The woodman made inquiries, and satisfied of the validity of his claim he laid it before the Court of Chancery, and this morning, it is said, he heard from his counsel (Sergeant Parry) that his right to the fortune was yesterday fully established, and on the 4th of January next he will receive this enormous windfall.—Evening Standard, September 10, 1885.

A CAUSE CÉLÈBRE IN AUSTRALIA.

A curious case was recently before the Supreme Court of the Australian province of Victoria. A short time back died intestate, in the neighbourhood of Melbourne, a brewer named Graham, leaving a widow and family and real and personal property amounting to between £70,000 and £80,000. The widow applied for letters of administration. An attorney who had, or professed to have, a claim on the estate entered a caveat. On the hearing of the cause it came out that the deceased had been twice married—the first time to a Jane Lancaster, at Beverley, in Yorkshire, on the 7th of September, 1820, and that by this wife he had two sons, John and William, who never left England, and are still living in their native place in very humble circumstances. At what time Mr. Graham emigrated did not appear, but it was shown that in 1840 he was married again in Melbourne, to a Mrs. Crook, an apparent widow, with a family by her first husband, who was formerly in the Ordnance Department in Hobart Town. One of these children, a Mrs. Cozens (a married woman), lodged a caveat against her mother (Mrs. Graham), obtaining letters of administration, alleging that at the time of her intermarrying with Graham in 1840 her first husband, Crook, was alive, an inmate of the lunatic asylum at Hobart Town, and that he lived for several years afterwards. Recriminatory affidavits were filed on behalf of the mother denying the facts alleged against herself, and alleging that the daughter's opposition was merely for the purpose of extorting money; that she, the daughter, was herself in the position charged on the mother, and that her first husband, a man named Weatherly, was still alive. Be this as it may, it very distinctly appeared from correspondence and certificates forwarded from England, by a Mr. Champney, a solicitor instructed by Graham's younger son at Beverley, that Graham's Beverley wife did not die until 1860; so that when Graham went through the marriage ceremony with Mrs. Crook in 1840 the proceeding was null. The above stated facts would probably never have come to light at all, but for the circumstance that Graham, being in bad health, wrote home to his English sons about a month before his death, one of whom, seeing a fortune in the wind, at once instructed Mr. Champney to communicate with the father on their behalf. The father, however, died before Mr. Champney's letter reached the colony. The Beverley sons seem to be the only next-of-kin, and therefore they will apparently be fitted straight from penury into the possession of some £10,000 each. A case so rich in bigamy is not often met with.—Manchester Examiner, July 11, 1871.

CURIOUS WILLS.

Here are the principal portions of a will, made by Dr. Dunlop, at one time a member of the Canadian Legislature:—"I, being in sound health of body and mind, which my friends who do not flatter me say is no great shakes at the best of times, do make my last will. I leave the property of Gairbread (particularised) to my sisters Helen Boyle Storey and Elizabeth Boyle Dunlop, the former because she is married to a minister, whom, may God help him, she hen-pecks, the latter because she is married to nobody, nor is she likely to be, for she is an old maid, and not market rife. . . . I leave my silver tankard to the eldest son of old John, as the representative of the family. I would have left it to old John himself, but he would have melted it down to make temperance medals, and that would have been a sacrilege. However, I leave him my big horn snuff-box; he can only make temperance horn spoons out of that. I leave my sister Jennie my Bible, the property formerly of my great-grandmother, Betsy Hamilton, of Woodhall, and when she knows as much of the spirit as she does of the letter she will be a much better Christian than she is. I leave my late brother's watch to my brother Sandy, exhorting him at the same time to give up Whiggery and Radicalism, and all other sins that do most easily beset him. I leave my brother-in-law, Allan, my punch-bowl, as he is a big gaunny man, and likely to do credit to it. I leave to parson Chevasie my big silver snuff-box as a small token of gratitude to him for taking my sister Maggie, whom no man of taste would have taken. I leave to John Caddell a silver tea-pot, to the end that he may drink tea therefrom to comfort him under the affliction of a slatternly wife. I leave my books to my brother Andrew, because he has been so zingly wally, that he may yet learn to read with them. I leave my silver cup with the sovereign in the bottom of it, to my sister Janet, because she is an old maid and pious, and therefore necessarily given to hoarding; and also my grandmother's snuff-box, as it looks decent to see an old maid taking snuff."

▲ will proved as recently as the year 1875 contained the following lines:—

I, having neither kith nor kin,
 Bequeath all I have named herein,
 To Margaret my dearest wife,
 To have and hold as hers for life;
 While in good health and sound of mind,
 This codicil I've undersigned.

"Who seeks, and will not take, when once 'tis offer'd, Shall never find it more."—Antony and Cleopatra.

EVELYN PIERREPONT, late DUKE OF KINGSTON.—If GEORGE HENRY ZAHN, and others (who were in the service or employ of EVELYN, LATE DUKE OF KINGSTON, at the time of his death, which happened in the year 1773), or their representatives, will apply to ———, London, they will hear of something to their advantage.—The Times.

CURIOUS WILLS.

Perhaps the most singular of many remarkable wills was that of a woman named Margaret Thompson, who died rather more than a century ago. She was a noted snuff-taker, and left behind her a will redolent from first to last with the fragrant dust, with which the good woman had been accustomed to regale her nose during life. The following is a copy of it:—"In the name of God, Amen. I, Margaret Thompson, being of sound mind, &c., do desire that when my soul is departed from this wicked world, my body and effects may be disposed of in the manner following:—I desire that all my household-stuffs that I may have unwashed at the time of my decease, after they have been got together by my old and trusty servant, Sarah Stuart, to be put by her, and by her alone, at the bottom of my coffin, which I desire may be made large enough for the purpose, together with such a quantity of the best Scotch snuff (in which she knoweth I always had the greatest delight) as will cover my deceased body; and this I desire the more especially as it is usual to put flowers into the coffins of departed friends, and nothing can be so fragrant and refreshing to me as that precious powder. But I strictly charge that no man be suffered to approach my body till the coffin is closed, and it is necessary to carry me to my burial, which I order in the manner following: Six men to be my bearers, who are known to be the greatest snuff-takers in the parish of St. James's, Westminster. Instead of mourning, each to wear a snuff-coloured beaver hat, which I desire may be bought for the purpose, and given to them. Six maidens of my old acquaintance [named] to bear my pall, each to wear a proper hood, and to carry a box filled with the best Scotch snuff to take for their refreshment as they go along. Before my corpse I desire the minister may be invited to walk, and to take a certain quantity of the said snuff, not exceeding one pound; to whom also I bequeath five guineas on condition of his so doing. And I desire my old and faithful servant, Sarah Stuart, to walk before the corpse, to distribute every twenty yards a large handful of Scotch snuff to the ground, and upon the crowd who may possibly follow me to my burial place; on which condition I bequeath her £20. And I also desire that at least two bushels of the said snuff may be distributed at the door of my house in Boyle Street."

Sir Francis Burdett's connection with Westminster electioneering brought him the following legacy in the will of a person named John Moody, a boot maker, of that city, who died in 1806:—"I give to Sir F. Burdett, Bart., this piece of friendly advice, to take a special care of his conduct and person, and never more to be the dupe of artful and designing men at a contest election, or even amongst persons moving in a higher sphere of life; for placemen of all descriptions have conspired against him, and if prudence does not lead him into private life, certain destruction will await him."

"It is not only the right but the absolute duty of every family to ascertain, by all available means, the lawful appropriation of every description of property left by deceased intestate persons."

AN UNEXPECTED FORTUNE.

Devonshire has been truly called the garden of England. One of its beautiful villages inspired Goldsmith's immortal "Sweet Auburn?" and lovers of nature, wearied with the din and strife of life's incessant struggle, have delighted to wander at ease through the luxuriant fern-clad woods, along the quiet, drowsy lanes, and in the deep, calm, sleepy dells. In no other spot of England's lovely land do the birds sing so sweetly, or the flowers give out such exquisite perfume. Here, throughout the long summer day, the bees hum drowsily on from flower to flower, sipping lovingly the sweet juice which forms their wealth, and which the flowers so lovingly yield. What a contrast to the fierce contest man wages with his fellow man for his wealth! In a small village in the heart of this beautiful county stands a labourer's cottage. It is a picturesque old place, in the midst of a large garden, such as we still find in some rural districts surrounding the humble homes of our agricultural labourers. The front of the cottage is covered with woodbine, honeysuckle, and roses, through which two little lattice windows peep out upon the passers-by, while one gable end is completely hidden by a large, luxuriant grape vine. Until quite recently this was the abode of an old labourer and his family, who, though thrifty and industrious, were, and had been all their life, extremely poor. Life to this poor man had been a desperate struggle, and many a time the meal consisted only of vegetables from the garden which he cultivated so carefully. Hard work had been his portion all his life, and it never entered his head that the world contained for him aught beyond the scant wage due to his hard and cheerless toil. All his relations, so far as he knew, had been poor, and there was no one from whom he could expect a single penny. Happening, however, to come across a list of names of persons who had been advertised for to claim money and property in Chancery, he was greatly surprised and very much agitated to find his own name in full; and being a man of more than ordinary intelligence, for his class, he at once communicated with the publishers of the list, which has resulted in establishing his claim to an enormous fortune, left nearly 100 years ago! If it had been his good luck to have seen this life years ago, what a life of misery would have been spared to him and his family! Looked up in the Court of Chancery there is nearly £100,000,000 in money and property belonging to the people, which the Chancery paymaster would be only too glad to get rid of if the owners would but apply for it in the right way. The rightful owners of all this wealth are scattered through all classes of society, and many a toiler of both sexes in the professions, the counting-house, the factory, the warehouse, the shop, and the field is entitled to come forward and claim a fortune. There is no longer any mystery about this great mine of wealth.—Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper, October 11, 1885.

DEATH OF A WEALTHY RECLUSE.

Mr. E. Herford, the city coroner, held an inquest yesterday in reference to the death of James Swift, aged 74 years, and lately residing at 17, Horne-street, Canal-street, Ancoats. The deceased was a man of penurious habits, and as he was of a solitary and retiring disposition, seldom leaving his house, very little was known of him in the neighbourhood where he lived, though it was sometimes whispered that, notwithstanding his apparent poverty, he was possessed of great wealth. That there was good foundation for this idea subsequently appeared. He was last seen alive at dinner time on Tuesday, at which time he was brushing the doorstep. Two hours afterwards the attention of police-constable Henry Parker was called to the fact that the shutters of his house were fast closed. Not knowing what to make of this, the officer tried to gain an entrance, and was at length obliged to force open the back door. He found the deceased lying on his back on the kitchen floor, with a chair on the top of him. He appeared to have been sitting in the chair, and to have fallen off, causing it to topple over with him. The body was cold, life being quite extinct; and the deceased's watch had stopped at half-past two o'clock. The house was in a very dirty condition, and there was evidence that its occupant had never slept in bed. In the course of examination which disclosed these things, a safe was found containing deeds and mortgage bonds representing about £12,000 worth of property, and the large sum of £2,000 in gold. Mr. Thomas Gibb, estate agent, 6, Burton-street, Salford, told the coroner that he had known the deceased for 7 years. He had always lived a retired life. The witness had often told him that he did not take proper care of himself; and once, when he was ill, advised him to get a doctor. He had no relations. Mr. Sutcliffe, surgeon, 70, Ashton New Road, who had made a post mortem examination of the body, said that death had resulted from an enlarged heart. The deceased had evidently been in the habit of drinking, but not to excess. The body was still unrecognised, and was found in the street. A verdict of "Death from natural causes" was returned.—Examiner and Times, November 26, 1875.

TESTIMONIAL.

Port Darwin Camp,
Northern Territory,
South Australia
July 7th 1894.

Dear Sirs, I
Some years since I purchased your "Register of Next of Kin" and on looking over Index to same found my Uncles name among those having Funds in Chancery.

I thereupon instructed you to investigate the matter on my behalf the result of which was that I and others entitled to share in the funds received an amount each, I understand all that was then available in the Court of Chancery and being convinced that there are many persons in Australia entitled to money lying unclaimed in England, but who are ignorant of the way in which they can recover it, I advise them to procure your Register of Next of Kin, and have their claims properly investigated by J. H. Dougall & Co. of 62, Strand, London, England, knowing from experience that you are the proper persons to undertake the work.

Accept my thanks for the way in which you have proved my Claim,

I remain,

yours faithfully,

A. Warland

To J. H. Dougall & Co.
Strand,
London. W.C.

NEXT-OF-KIN AGENCIES.

The following is an extract from an Article in the Melbourn Argus, October 10th, 1885:—

Next-of-kin agencies in England are old and well-established institutions. It is not surprising that in a population so vast, and among a people containing families which can trace back their ancestry for centuries, there should be much work for inquiry offices of this kind; for even with families of no note the ramifications are extraordinary, the ties of relationship often varying from peers to peasants, though all springing from one tree. In the early days of the goldfields all sorts and conditions of men were attracted to the country, and that many died, leaving no sign, and being obliterated as completely as Lost Sir Massingberd, while others, as was supposed to have been the case with young Tichborne, neglected for various reasons to communicate with their relatives, and finally forgot them altogether. Under such circumstances legacies are continually being left to missing heirs. It is the function of the next-of-kin agencies to apprise the wanderers of their happy fortune, or satisfy the second heir of the death of the first. The investigations thus set on foot frequently bring to light very strange stories full of romance.

The announcement that there is £100,000,000 of unclaimed money and estates going a begging sounds a little extravagant, but it will not appear so extraordinary when it is remembered that the amount is based on a registered alphabetical list of persons who have been advertised for all over the world since the beginning of the century, including Chancery heirs, next-of-kin, and legatees of persons who have died intestate in the United Kingdom, India, and the British colonies. The main sources of unclaimed monies in England are unclaimed dividends on Government stocks, dormant funds in Chancery, army and navy prize money; estates reverting to the Crown through persons dying intestate without known next-of-kin, unclaimed dividends in bankruptcy, and unclaimed dividends generally, and unclaimed bank deposits. Nothing can be too fantastic or romantic for what may happen under a will, and no one need despair of being a legatee. A story is told in a late number of the Cornhill Magazine of a youngster at school at Harrow who once opened a gate and held it back for a stout farmer on horse back to pass. "Thank you, my boy," said the farmer, one of the wealthy Middlesex graziers; "what may your name be?" "My name's Green," returned the boy, with an ill-timed burst of the imagination. "And what is your father?" "Oh, my father's a cheezemonger," said the smart scholar, chuckling internally at his ready wit, "and he lives in London, in the Theobald's Road, rather a small shop, with two steps down out of the street." "I'm very much obliged to you," replied the farmer, by no means, as it afterwards appeared, a man of straw. "You're a capital young chap; I shan't forget you." "Don't," was the scholar's final thrust. "Remember Green, and a chessmonger in Theobald's Road." And up the hill he went, almost as much pleased with himself as if he had been asked to play against Eton at Lord's. What his feelings may have been when, ten years later, a young gentleman of the name of Green was advertised for, whose father kept a chessmonger's shop in the Theobald's Road, and who, in return for politely opening a gate at Harrow in a specified year, was left a large legacy by the wealthy farmer, recently deceased—what his feelings were then none of his relatives cared to inquire too closely; but it was observed by all that from that hour the unhappy young man never lost an opportunity of insisting on the incalculable blessings of the most rigid adherence to truth, of the disasters invariably incident to even a momentary deviation from which virtue he himself was a most marked and melancholy example. For neither was his name Green, or anything approaching to it, nor had his father, a quiet country gentleman, ever even in the remotest fashion been interested in chess; indeed, as his son has been heard pathetically to remark, in the smallest amounts it invariably disagreed with him.

It is strange that there should be so much unclaimed gold in the world, considering what a useful metal it is, but statistics prove that annually a certain number of people disappear mysteriously from the circle in which they have lived, leaving no more trace than a grain of sand that falls into a river. The world is wide, and it is not difficult to get lost beyond recognition or finding. Undiscovered crime will account for many strange disappearances, but there are other impenetrable mysteries which have their origin in a mere freak on the part of the missing person, or some obscure motive known only to himself or herself. It is the leaving of bequests to such people that provides most of the work for next-of-kin offices. It cannot be doubted that some people who are entitled to wealth descend to paupers' graves without ever knowing it.

The advertisements which appear in the newspapers from time to time asking for information in regard to missing people who will hear of something to their advantage on communicating with an address named, often have reference to very large sums awaiting the lawful claimant. Many cases of the kind have occurred in this colony within the last six or seven years. In the estate of Cady Buckley, of Gipps Land, the circumstances surrounding which formed a well-remembered romance, the sum divided among the heirs was £55,000. The advertisements appeared for a considerable time before any notice was taken of them. Among missing heirs who have been found in Melbourne, after their relatives had despaired of ever hearing of them again, may be mentioned a brother of one of the present Australian Governors who was discovered painting fences and doing other job work about the grounds of the M.C.C. The Earl of Clanwilliam was indebted to his visit to this city in company with the sons of the Prince of Wales for the recovery from a bank in Dublin of a quantity of family plate, which had been deposited there by a relative early in the century and forgotten. Quite recently a foreigner selling flowers was a familiar figure in the Melbourne hotel bars and cafés. But he will be seen in these haunts no more, since, through the next-of-kin agency, he has come into a property in France worth £460 a year. It is difficult to trace actresses, as they usually appear before the public under assumed names. The next-of-kin register, however, not long ago conveyed to a young actress in this colony the pleasing intelligence that she was entitled to a legacy of over £2,000, and she has received the money. Several cases have occurred in this colony in which fortunes have been secured through the next-of-kin agency.

In this colony considerable sums pass into the hands of the curator of intestate estates every year. There is a class of lapsed funds by which the banks benefit largely, and which these institutions ought to be obliged to make some effort to find an owner for. If the banks were compelled to make a return to the Government of all drafts or deposits which have remained unclaimed with them for, say, five or ten years, the next-of-kin of deceased or missing persons would often come into possession of substantial amounts. When a draft or deposit is left unclaimed in a bank, no matter for what length of time, no step is taken to advertise the fact, and the bank derives advantage from the misfortune of others. It has often happened that a draft for a man in destitute circumstances has lain for years in a bank, and the person for whom it was intended has never known anything about it. Numbers of people make deposits in banks, and go away and die without leaving directions for the recovery of the money, or after having mislaid the receipt. In such cases the relatives never hear of what they are entitled to claim. It is within the mark to say that the Melbourne banks gain several thousands of pounds per annum which they are not entitled to in this way. There are also a number of unclaimed Crown grants lying at the Treasury which might have been taken up by relatives of deceased people had they been advertised. In the early days of the goldfields a man often purchased a piece of land, hurried off to the diggings without obtaining a grant, and perhaps died there. Some of these unclaimed grants now represent land of great value. On the death of an old resident recently, his son found among his papers a receipt from the late

J. P. Fawcner, dated 1859, for £16 13s., the price paid for a piece of land in a suburban district. No grant was ever issued, and the transaction seems to have been forgotten by the purchaser. The allotment is now worth £1,000. Next of kin agencies exert themselves on behalf of people who are publicly advertised for.

A LARGE INHERITANCE.

A petition has been presented to the French National Assembly by Mlle. Rosalie Cotton of Epinal, in the Vosges, praying that the Minister of Finance may be directed to acknowledge her right to the succession of the Sieur Thierry, a French citizen who died in Venice in 1676, and whose estate, having been lodged in the treasury of Venice, was removed thence to France by general Bonaparte, who informed the Directory, under date 11 Floreal, an V., that the Venetian Senate had handed to him the succession of Thierry, then amounting to twenty millions of francs. The amount is said to be now 100 millions of francs, or about four millions sterling. Jean Thierry was the son of a shoe maker of Chateau Thierry, and left his father's house at the age of 14. He was left a good fortune by one of the companions of his adventures, after which he settled in Venice, and made a will, leaving his property to his brothers and sisters. Some 300 people have claimed this property, and the First Chamber of Paris has now the claim of Mlle. Cotton before it.—Manchester Evening News January 22, 1875.

June 24th 1884.

Gentlemen,

In answer to your last letter dated June 9th I beg to state that I received the £511.5.4 on Monday last, 16th inst, on receipt of a letter stating it was placed to my credit at Brown Bros & Co, of Wall St. — I will also say that I had perfect confidence in your way of conducting the case from first to last, and am satisfied that you have done the best for me you could under the circumstances.

I sent you two Photos about a year ago, one of myself, and one of my Father, if you will return them I shall be greatly obliged.

Yours faithfully
George E Alcock.

An Exchange telegram says that an old sailor named Stephenson, at present an inmate of the Royal Alfred Institution, Belvedere, is said to have inherited an estate valued at £37,000, as a descendant of the great George Stephenson.—Daily Chronicle, Jan. 26th, 1891.

A New York Correspondent writes :—What is described as “a startling discovery” has been made at Dayton, Kentucky. It is stated that John C. Taylor, who has been living in obscurity, is the reputed heir to the estate and the earldom of Tyrone. If the lineage is proved he gains the title, and shares with other members of the Taylor family the accumulations of rental of the estate for 100 years past. The estate is valued at a million and a half pounds. The title of Earl of Tyrone is now borne by the Marquis of Waterford, and it may be added that the family name is Beresford, and not Taylor.—Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper, Jan. 25th, 1891.

It was reported here to-day that a cook in the service of a clergyman in the county has had the extraordinarily good fortune to receive out of Chancery a legacy of £300,000. This amount is said to be a share only of the property involved. The woman has been in the service of the rector for some years, and it is said that upon a remark that she could now keep a cook of her own, she answered, "Not if I know it."—Daily Telegraph, October 23rd, 1886.

A singular piece of good fortune has befallen a Stourbridge carpenter, named Richard Lightowler Wilkinson, who, within the last few days, has had an intimation that the late Mr. W. C. Willis, a mine-owner in the neighbourhood of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, has left him an estate of the value of £25,000, and £1,450 in money, in recognition of his having saved his life in the year 1882.—Peterborough and Huntingdonshire Standard, October 2nd, 1886.

On Saturday, at a meeting of the Blackburn Board of Guardians, the clerk reported that a pauper named Ellison had, under the will of a Mr. Allsopp, become entitled to a fourth share of £1,000.—Nottingham Weekly Express, Dec. 10th, 1886.

Messrs J. H. Dougall & Co
Law Agents, Strand,
London —

Gentlemen,

I have the pleasure to acknowledge receipt of Bank Draft, being money due to me under my late husband's Will & which has been for many years in the Court of Chancery unknown to me — My attention was called to this money by an old friend who saw my late husband's name in your "Index Register to Unclaimed Money & Property" and I have to thank you for your trouble in obtaining the money from the Court.

Yours faithfully,

Louisa Baxter

PEDIGREE HUNTING.

BY WALTER CHITTY.

General Instructions for Tracing Pedigrees.

It will now be necessary to give a little advice about applications to various persons who put advertisements in the papers for heirs-at-law and next-of-kin. These are constantly appearing, and all those to be found in his useless papers may be considered genuine. Nevertheless, it often happens that the very person who is most interested in a certain advertisement is the very last one to see or hear anything about it, and perhaps goes down to his grave without that knowledge. To give an instance. In the case of my own family, an advertisement appeared in the Times, in the year 1841, but the person whom it most concerned never saw it till the year 1881; but though his personal knowledge of the matter for four years plenty of others who had really nothing to do with it, but thought they had, made constant applications, of course with no benefit to themselves. These things can not be helped. In these days an advertisement is more likely to be seen, and that for several reasons. Long ago the words went forth that, "In the latter days many shall go to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased." People do go to and fro, and their knowledge is increased. More people read, more papers are printed, and thus it happens that advertisements are not so likely to escape the eyes as formerly. But what of those which have escaped the eye? Well, files of them are kept by the various publishers of them, and they can be seen at the British Museum and other libraries. But it would be very hard, and perhaps hopeless, work to wade through these, and very possibly the game might not be worth the candle. But this difficulty has in a measure been overcome.

There are several persons who have devoted years to this very thing. Their modus operandi has been as follows: From time to time, as advertisements have appeared, these persons have cut them out, stuck them in books, dated and indexed them. When the number became very large, a list of them was published. Several books of this kind have appeared, and can be procured in London. But it would be unwise to leave the reader in the dark as to which book it would be advisable to purchase. A most elaborate list has been collected by Mr. F. H. Douglass, who has spent years of toil in doing so. It is called an "Index to Advertisements for Next-of-Kin, Heirs-at-Law, Legatees, &c., who have been advertised for, to claim Money and Property in Great Britain and all Parts of the World." It must be understood at once that it is only a list of the names of the persons, not the advertisements themselves; for it is obvious that Mr. Douglass could not give the advertisements too, it would mean remuneration to anybody who attempted such a thing. The book also contains names of testators, creditors, intestates, testators, heirs, legatees, creditors or their representatives, claimants, claimants and reclaimed dividends and stock, claimants, administrators, executors, bondholders, wills, advertisements, &c., claims, unclaimed balances, packages, addresses, parish clerks' notices, foreign intestates, &c., together with amusing anecdotes on extraordinary windfalls, curious wills, misers, and other matters. Now this is a most valuable book to anyone who knows the way to use it.

If any person desires a copy of an advertisement, Mr. Douglass sends a full and authentic one for a1. Now it would be very silly for some person, especially if his name is Smith, to pick out a name at random and send off his money and think he has only to fold his arms and become rich. I can tell Mr. Douglass would not wish him to do so. Besides, it very often happens that the heir-at-law of John Smith may not be a Smith at all. His name might be Tomkins or anything else. If a person possesses a common surname, extra care should be used. Dr. Farr has given some valuable information on this point. He gives a list of the most common surnames (to the number of fifty) occurring in England. Out of a total of 449,911 persons 33,557 rejoiced in the name of Smith, the next in order being Jones. "It is estimated (Phillimore) that on an average 1 person in 73 is a Smith, 1 in 76 a Jones, 1 in 113 a Williams, 1 in 183 a Taylor, 1 in 162 a Davies, and 1 in 174 a Brown." In Mr. Douglass's book there are of course lots of people "wanted" of these six surnames.

Now, it is advisable as a matter of interesting study alone, to keep an account of one's ancestors and relations as far as possible. Dr. Johnson, the great lexicographer, in studying his ancestry, found that one of them had been hung. Accordingly, when the Doctor was counting, he told his young lady of this fact to see the effect upon her. In reply the lady informed him that he need not trouble himself about that, as it was not of the slightest consequence. She had never, so far as she knew, had any relations hung, but she had (she said) a good many who ought to be, and that amounted to the same thing. It is possible, therefore, to meet with some uninteresting things and persons in compiling one's pedigree. Nevertheless, do it as far as you can. With a little patience and trouble, and the purchase of a few postage stamps, to make enquiries, a fair pedigree may be compiled. Most people could with care trace back, say, to his great great grandfather. This time would cover most of the advertisements which have been published for a great many years.

Now let us see the use of compiling this little pedigree. As the names get entered one by one in their proper places, interest will gather round them, and by degrees the fate of each will be discovered and recorded. Perhaps you will have to pay a long promised visit to your Aunt Mary to ask her what became of a certain sailor's name named Bill or Tom, who went abroad. Perhaps Aunt Mary will say that Tom made his fortune out in Australia, but that Bill soon after he landed died of a fever. Note all this down and then ask about Tom's love affairs. Oh, Aunt Mary says, Tom never had any love affairs in Australia. He could not get the girl he wanted in England so he went out to Australia and never married at all. Note this down too. Aunt Mary continues the parable, and says that Tom left no will, as far as she knew, but she had heard his relatives had been advertised for. You make a note of this also, have supper with Aunt Mary, and go home. You go home but not to rest, and talk over the matter with your wife. If you have a wife worthy of the name, besure and do that. You have little to go upon now, and as we will suppose that being a pedigree hunter, you have bought Mr. Boggall's book, you turn over its pages and make a diligent search. You find a great many surnames like your own, but only two or three with the name of Tom; but you happen to see one of that name with Australia in brackets against the name. Now, on the principle of nothing venture nothing have, I should say there was a strong case here to raise the pound and get the advertisement. As you probably mean to do a little of the generous if you ever come into luck, your nearest relatives will probably not mind contributing a small sum to help to obtain it. When obtained, carefully read it, and except you feel very sure you are the person wanted, don't spend any more money, but purchase a few stamps, and I written few letters of enquiry. I have mentioned his case in Belgravia before, and I think if you can get the names of one or two clergy in the neighbourhood where "Tom" died, you will probably get some valuable information. I have ever found the clergy willing, and even eager to give sound advice. Remember, too, that you will get this advice gratis. It has been said that it is only a fool who never goes to a doctor or a lawyer, but you will be wise to do without both till necessity compels.

Of course, if you require further information than your advertisement supplies, and you cannot get it gratis, you must pay for it; but if you proceed cautiously, very little will be lost, and even if nothing is gained you will feel satisfied at having set the matter at rest in a cheap way. I once knew a man who studied his pedigree till he had a very complete and perfect one as he thought. He thought he was heir-at-law to certain property, and commenced his action. But the printing of the news brought another man forward who had a better right than the former. In giving judgment for the latter, the judge told him that he had profited by the hard work of his kinsman, and told him the other ought to have a good share. And he had it. Though it is very foolish to pocket his sand-fancies, if you consider you have a solid foundation upon which to build, then build. It is said that "faint heart never won fair lady," and it is very probable that faint heart never won anything else.

A few words about the Court of Chancery. It seems that, from returns presented to the House of Commons, there is cash and stock in the Court of Chancery amounting to more than £77,000,000. Now, why is it there? It is there because it is not known to whom it belongs. If any reader of this article can prove his right to any portion of it, he will get it, but of course not otherwise. Many people cannot afford to go to a solicitor. But even this difficulty may be overcome in our happy country. "A poor person" (so says Mr. Boggall) "who requires the assistance of the Court of Chancery, but is unable, through poverty, to engage the services of a solicitor, must present a petition to the Master of the Rolls, setting out his case, and praying to be admitted to sue in forma pauperis; and that a solicitor and counsel may be assigned for him. A certificate of counsel must be annexed to the petition, and an affidavit by which the poor person declares himself not worth so, except his wearing apparel and the matters in question. On this petition the Master of the Rolls grants his fiat, assigning the poor person (free of charge) the services of a solicitor and counsel, and ordering them to attend to the case."

A poor person may also defend an action in the same way. Of course if after all these advantages the poor person attains considerable property, he cannot expect—not would it be right—to have it all for nothing, but must then pay the cost of the action. It will thus be seen that the laws of our country generally are just and equal; for, if nothing is gained by the poor person nothing is lost, and he must indeed be a selfish man who would be unwilling to pay up if successful. At one time it was a most difficult thing to get money out of Chancery, but matters have been improved, and though there is still "the law's delay," there is not the delay there was formerly, and as time goes on matters will no doubt further improve. It will be very instructive for the public generally to know what the Times said, 14th July, 1884:

"Very few persons have any conception of the enormous sums of money which pass through the hands of the Paymaster-General in Chancery, and of which a very considerable proportion remains permanently under his control through the decrease of the parties immediately interested, and the absence of their next-of-kin. So far as the Court of Chancery was concerned, it could do nothing towards restoring to their rightful owners those properties which, from various causes, have been placed and had remained in its coffers as the highest repository of absolute security and public faith. So long as the actual litigants, trustees, or wards survive, there is always the guarantee of the actual discharge of an onerous trust, and with it the conference on the public of an enormous and, in many cases, a quite inestimable obligation. But once a case is dormant, from whatever cause, the Court can take no initiative, and the funds or property originally confided to it in trust remain practically inaccessible to those who would be its rightful owners. The publication of these triennial lists is the first step yet taken towards facilitating the discovery and recovery of these funds, which represent a certain and increasing percentage of the Chancery returns. These returns show a steady and continual growth, and although there are no published data to reveal the exact amount of dormant funds, there is no doubt that it swells in proportion to the total payments into the Chancery exchequer. The latest official returns of Chancery payments and receipts show that whereas, in February, 1870, there was a balance in hand of £65,300,757, this sum had risen at the end of February, 1882—in the course of ten years—to £77,000,000, representing an increase of more than £12,000,000 sterling in that portion of the National Capital, which, if not absolutely unfruitful, is still inoperative for private or public advantage. Of these £12,000,000, a certain percentage will remain dormant for ever, while of the whole £77,000,000 that were on balance in the early part of last year, not far short of £1,000,000 comes under the category of, and is included in, the present list—that is to say, each separate case relates to a sum of more than £50, which has lain dormant for the space of fifteen years."

TESTIMONIAL.

24 Parsons Hill
Woolwich
March 7th/99.

Gentlemen,

A great friend of mine having just recovered a large fortune through the instrumentality of your valuable "Registry" of Heir of Kin, she brought the book to me having heard me say my father had a large fortune in Chancery. I had a look through & found my fathers name Charles Storey. The fortune was left to his Grandfather also named Charles Storey. I should very much like to know all about it & so first of all I enclose £1. P. O. for the Advertisement as advertised in your book.

Yours truly,
Charlotte Barnes

THE POOR PEOPLE'S CHANCERY SUIT.

---

*Instructions how to RECOVER MONEY or PROPERTY from CHANCERY
FREE of all LAW COSTS, COURT FEES, and COUNSEL'S FEES.*

A poor person who is not worth more than £25, except the subject matter of his claim, and who requires the assistance of the Court of Chancery, but is unable, through poverty, to engage the services of a Solicitor, must present a petition to the High Court of Justice, setting out his case and praying to be admitted to sue in formâ pauperis; and that a Solicitor and Counsel may be assigned for him. A case, setting out his claim and the opinion of Counsel, must be annexed to the petition, with an affidavit by a Solicitor verifying the statements in the case. On this petition the Court assigns the poor person (free of charge) the services of a Solicitor and Counsel, and the payment of Court Fees is dispensed with.

So also a poor person may defend a Chancery suit in formâ pauperis; he may immediately on the writ being served, and without entering an appearance, present a petition to the Court for an order so to defend, supported by a similar case and affidavit to that above mentioned; neither Court Fees nor fees to Counsel will then be payable.

If, however, he become, through the suit, entitled to any considerable amount of property, an order will be made for dispaupering him; and he will then have to pay the subsequent fees out of the property he becomes possessed of.

It will thus be seen, that by the just and equitable laws of this country, no poor person need ever submit to a wrong or injury by a rich one.

Persons thinking there is money or property in Chancery to which they, or their families are entitled, and finding a name mentioned in the UNCLAIMED MONEY REGISTER to which they may be related, should procure a copy of the advertisement relating to the name (fee £1), which will give full information, enabling them to form an opinion as to whether they are relatives or entitled, they may then (if too poor to employ a Solicitor) apply to the Court of Chancery and RECOVER the MONEY or PROPERTY FREE OF ANY CHARGES OR FEES whatever (unless successful).

Full and authentic copy of the original advertisement relating to any name in Register giving all information necessary to lodge a claim will be forwarded on receipt of £1.

TESTIMONIAL.

City Workhouse,
Exeter

To F. H. Douglass Esq.,
Strand,
London.

Dear Sirs

I recently received a sum of unclaimed money through the medium of your valuable agency, & I now take great pleasure in acknowledging the promptness with which you pressed my claim.

It was through seeing a name in your book which induced me to apply to you.

I feel sure that there are hundreds of people now in very humble circumstances who would be greatly benefitted if they were to place their claims in your hands for collection.

Yours truly
John Banbury.

NEXT-OF-KIN WANTED.—A correspondent writes:—One of the largest estates the Court of Chancery has ever had to administer is that of Mr. H. T. Cobden, of Hyde Park Gardens, Middlesex, who died intestate last November, a widower, without leaving child, parent, brother or sister, uncle or aunt, nephew or niece. The amount of the personality has been sworn at £178,558 5s. 10d. The Court of Chancery is now inquiring for any kindred that may be alive.—Daily Telegraph.

LEGACY 100 YEARS OLD.—The Governors of the School for Indigent Blind, St. George's Fields, Southwark, have only just received a legacy of £1,000, which had been left to the institution by will 100 years ago. It could not be paid until now, however, in consequence of certain technicalities which have taken thus long to overcome.—The Echo, 10 June, 1892.

A WINDFALL.—A workman named Price, employed at the Forest Works, Marnston, near Swansea, has received a cheque for nearly £10,000, the money having been left in Chancery by an uncle.—Morning Post, 11 June, 1892.

A WINDFALL.—Some four years ago (says a Leeds paper) a London solicitor communicated with Mr. John W. Garbutt, then a buller carrying on a thriving business in Hull, in reference to money left him in a will made by an American relative, who was not then dead. Mr. Garbutt went up to London and made some inquiries, but, from some cause or another, let the matter drop until just recently, when it has been more amply clear that the relative, who died about three years ago, has left him a sum of £50,000.—Birmingham Mail, 10 July, 1892.

WINDFALL FOR A CRIMINAL.—W— W—, of Ashford, Kent, who is undergoing 18 months' imprisonment for embezzlement, has, by the death of a relative, inherited a fortune of between £1,000 and £3,000.—Dunee Advertiser, 29 December, 1891.

WINDFALL FOR A PECKHAM FAMILY.—A family of three daughters and one son, living in Peckham, have just, quite unexpectedly, been left £10,000 between them by an uncle. The man works in the Post Office at £1 a week, and one of his sisters, it is stated, had to go out washing.—Pall Mall Gazette, 13 July, 1892.

WHO KNOWS OF THIS "LUCKY"?—A poor quarman named Eccles, living at Huncoat, near Accrington, has, it is reported, received information of a windfall of £20,000, said to have been left by his father, who was transported 38 years ago, and on his liberation started as a sheep farmer.—Star, 23 October, 1893.

AN IMMENSE WINDFALL.—The Diamond Fields Advertiser announces that a vast fortune has been left to a Kimberley (South Africa) family by a wealthy Tyne-side shipbuilder. Careful inquiries have been made by the family as to the terms of the will, and it is stated that the sum of £684,000 will be divided amongst the family referred to.

A WINDFALL.—It is stated that a London firm of solicitors are in search of a Miss Eleanor Bows, who has for some time been an assistant-miliner at well-known establishments in Cardiff, Aberdare, Liverpool, and other centres, but whose whereabouts is at present unknown. Miss Bows has become entitled to £27,000 through the death of a relative.—Daily Telegraph, March 11, 1892.

A WINDFALL FOR A WALES FAMILY.—Mr. Bruce Lovie, Vice-consul for Wales, has received intimation of the death in America of a Merthyr Tydfil miner, who had acquired considerable property in the gold mines in California. The deceased, who left Wales twenty years ago, bequeathed his estate, which is valued at £30,000, to his relatives at Merthyr.—Manchester Courier, April 25, 1892.

AMERICAN HEIRS TO ENGLISH PROPERTIES.—A Dalziel telegram, dated Springfield, Ill., Dec. 31, says:—John Elliott, an aged and crippled inmate of the poor-house here, claims to be the heir of the late William Elliott, of London, whose fortune is said to reach £1,000,000. It is said that Secretary Blaine has requested the American Minister in London to render assistance as falls within his power to the English lawyers.—Evening Standard, Jan. 1. It is telegraphed: Mrs. Eliza Elliott, widow of George Elliott, claims to be the heiress of Daniel Elliott, of London, her husband's brother, who is supposed to have left a large fortune. She has already begun proceedings to establish her claim.—Daily Chronicle, January 1, 1892.

A WINDFALL FOR A SEAMSTRESS.—Anna H. Hippmann, a Chicago seamstress, has inherited a legacy of £7,000 from Ignatz Hippmann, her grandfather, who died lately in Prussia, and to whom she found favour through a present of needlework a year ago.—Lancashire Evening Express, October 21, 1891.

FORTUNES GOING A-DRIFTING.—During 1891 a number of estates have fallen into the possession of the Crown, owing to the non-appearance of heirs. If the rightful claimant in any case should turn up, the estate can be recovered. The persons whose property has thus become ownerless during the year are as follows:—E. F. Angus (died abroad), E. ## “£5,000 GOING BEGGING.”

NEWS OF A LEGACY BROUGHT BY A “DAILY MAIL” PARAGRAPH.

A paragraph in the Daily Mail headed “£5,000 Going Begging” will probably be the means of bringing £5,000 to a Manchester lady.

Mr. C. White Mortimer, the British Vice-Consul at Los Angeles, California, last week made inquiry through our columns for the whereabouts of a Miss Constance Mills, the daughter of a Major Mills, known in America as “Bulwer,” who died leaving £10,000, half of which, by that law of the country, belonged to the undiscovered daughter.

A double surprise of grief and gladness was occasioned to Mrs. Constance Woodeson, wife of a Manchester architect, living at 25, Railway Road, Urmston, while reading the Daily Mail on Thursday. It conveyed to her tidings of her father's death, and further information that under his will a legacy of £5,000 is awaiting her in California.

About eight years ago, Mrs. Mills says, her father, Major H. F. Mills, disappeared from England. None of his friends knew where he had gone, and the last letter his wife received was dated from “St. Stephen's Club, London.” The major was of a restless, roving disposition, and for some time except for casual meetings by acquaintances in different parts of the world, his family heard nothing of him. He ultimately settled in California, and according to information sent to England by the British Vice-Consul at Los Angeles, he recently died leaving an estate worth £10,000, and a will in favour of a Mrs. Bulwer.

Under a curious provision in Californian law Mrs. Woodeson, his only child, is entitled to half the estate, but the matter is somewhat complicated by the fact that his wife is still alive.

Major Mills formerly held a commission in the Devonshire Militia, and he is said to be distantly connected with the Lytton family. That accounts for his adoption of the name of Bulwer while in America. He has a brother holding a prominent position in Salford. Mrs. Mills is a daughter of the late Mr. Richard Aspin, who was a prominent Manchester citizen.—Daily Mail, Monday, February 15th, 1904.

NOTICE OF UNCLAIMED MONEY.

If Mr. WILLIAM MCCARTNEY, who sailed from Liverpool, England, for New York, America, about forty years ago, would communicate with Messrs. Johnston and Freeman, solicitors, Piccadilly, London, England, he would hear of something to his advantage, as his uncle, General William Frederick Martin, is dead. He died in the East Indies and willed him all his property, which is estimated to be over one million of rupees; or if he has any heirs alive we would be pleased to learn from them. William McCartney was born in Liverpool, England. His father went from there to Ireland with his family when William was about six or eight years old. When William McCartney left Liverpool he had two children, a boy and a girl. The boy's name was Abraham. New York papers please copy.—New York Herald, October 2nd, 1882.

THOUSANDS WAITING AN OWNER.

A Hull firm of Solicitors is investigating a number of claims to a fortune left by a Denver intestate named Crooks Thomas who is believed to have left Hull 40 years ago. No title has yet been established to the estate, which is estimated at from £3,000 to £10,000.—Star, February 20th, 1904.

THE JONESES' FORTUNE.

The commission for the hearing of claims to the great Jones fortune of £57,000 came to a close in Liverpool last evening, and Mr. P. N. Stone, the commissioner, sealed up all the affidavits and sent them to tell their own tale to the Supreme Court of Victoria. There were originally over thirty claimants, namesakes for the most part of the Australian adventurer who accumulated the fortune. The real fight took place between an old friend and colleague of the late William Jones and a sister, whose relationship was denied.—Evening News, November 26th, 1903.

DRIVEN MAD BY WEALTH.

At Erfurt, in Prussia, an Italian widow named Caproni, who lived in the greatest poverty, received notice from her native place that she had inherited a fortune. Sudden joy at the news excited her to such an extent that she lost her reason the same night.

Saturating her dress with spirits of wine, she set light to it, and then ran into the street. Passers-by threw coats and cloaks over her, but her injuries are so terrible that there is no probability of her recovery.—Daily Mail, February 20th, 1904.

TESTIMONIALS.

Echuunga Gold Fields, SOUTH AUSTRALIA,
To Messrs. F. H. Dougal & Co., Strand, London. January 10th, 1893.

DEAR SIRS,

I herewith enclose receipt for draft on Union Bank of South Australia, Adelaide Branch.

Allow me to tender you my very sincere thanks for your prompt attention to my most arduous matters in England.

If it had not been for your Next-of-Kin Advertisement Book, in all probability I should never have heard of this money being left to myself and family in Australia after so many years past.

You are at liberty to publish this fact, and in so doing, you will confer a great favour on many colonists like myself. Again thanking you, Gentlemen,

I have the honour to be, yours most respectfully,

EDWARD LOVELAND.

Bordertown, Adelaide, SOUTH AUSTRALIA.

October 5th, 1894.

GENTLEMEN,

I beg to acknowledge receipt of cheque for my portion of money bequeathed to my mother by James and Edward Sotcher, with thanks.

Yours, &c.,

LUKE FARROW.

Messrs. F. H. Dougal & Co.

F. H. Dougal & Co.

GENTLEMEN,

Town Hall, Swanston Street, MELBOURNE, AUSTRALIA.

September 25th, 1895.

It is with the greatest pleasure that I thank you for the promptitude and straightforward manner in which your firm transacted my business, and can highly recommend anyone wishing to do business with you, that they will get every attention and assistance from you, and I think it is to be regretted that your valuable book, Next-of-Kin Register, and the firm, is not more widely known. Wishing you every success,

Yours faithfully, RICHARD OSCAR.

Messrs. Dougal & Co., London, E.C.

Liragolia, Ponto, NEW SOUTH WALES.

April 16th, 1897.

DEAR SIR,

Yours addressed to Manager, A. J. S. Rank, Dubbo, to hand covering papers, &c., belonging to estate, also draft, which is in order and has been duly honoured, and for which I thank you.

I note what you say re other similar business, and shall be glad to recommend your firm should opportunity arise.

Thanking you again,

Yours faithfully,

S. F. JACKSON.

From E. T. Dufaur, Solicitor,
Cosmopolitan Chambers, Queen Street, AUCKLAND,

June 15th, 1894.

DEAR SIR,

Your letter of the 30th April last has been received. The Register compiled and published by your firm is of very great value, and the facilities you afford, enable individuals at a small cost to ascertain whether it is worth their while to follow up their enquiries.

In my own case I may state that my mother was entitled to money that for upwards of fifty years had been lying unclaimed in the Accountant's Office in Chancery. I had received a hint to that effect, but took no steps to ascertain whether or not such statements were correct.

Seeing one day your book in our Supreme Court Library here, I noticed my Mother's Maiden name as that of one who was entitled to money, and with this confirmation I at once placed the matter in the hands of my London Agents, who were successful in obtaining what should have been paid more than half a century ago.

I do not think I should have prosecuted my inquiries had it not been for the confirmation given by your book, and I therefore think it is to be regretted that it is not more generally known, as undoubtedly owners would be discovered for much of the large amount of money lying unclaimed.

Yours faithfully,

To Messrs. F. H. Dougal & Co., Strand, London, W.C.

Messrs. F. H. Dougal & Co., Law Agents,

Summer Hill, Sydney, NEW SOUTH WALES,

Strand, London.

April 15th, 1895.

GENTLEMEN,

I have the pleasure to acknowledge receipt of Bank Draft, being money due to me under my late husband's Will, and which has been for many years in the Court of Chancery unknown to me. My attention was called to this money by an old friend who saw my late husband's name in your "Index Register to Unclaimed Money and Property," and I have to thank you for your trouble in obtaining the money from the Court.

Yours faithfully,

LOUISA BAXTER.

Orroroo, Adelaide, SOUTH AUSTRALIA.

August 25th, 1894.

GENTLEMEN,

I, the undersigned, do hereby acknowledge receipt of yours of the 26th June, 1894, with cheque enclosed for the amount of my share in Farrow's Estate, with thanks, and I also thank you for the prompt manner you have conducted the business.

Yours respectfully,

To F. H. Dougal & Co., Strand, London.

AMY NUTT.

Port Darwin Camp, Northern Territory, SOUTH AUSTRALIA,

July 7th, 1894.

DEAR SIR,

Some years since I purchased your "Register of Next-of-Kin," and on looking over Index to same found my uncle's name among those having funds in Chancery.

I thereupon instructed you to investigate the matter on my behalf, the result of which was that I and others entitle to share in the funds received an amount each. I understand all that was then available in the Court of Chancery, and being convinced that there are many persons in Australia entitled to money lying unclaimed in England, but who are ignorant of the way in which they can recover it, I advise them to procure your "Register of Next-of-Kin," and have their claims properly investigated by F. H. Dougal & Co., of the Strand, London, England, knowing from experience that you are the proper persons to undertake the work.

Accept my thanks for the way in which you have proved my claim.

I remain, Yours faithfully,

To F. H. Dougal & Co., Strand, London, W.C.

WENVOE CASTLE CLAIMANT.

Miss Gertrude Jenner, who last week complained, at Bow Street, that her dear brother's widow was a trespasser at Wenvoe Castle, under a disputed will, appeared before Sir F. Lushington yesterday.

She had, she said, made a diligent search with regard to the solicitors, who have been working in "sworn secrecy, and conspiracy against her."

Their names were to be found in the Law Book—The Red Law Book, she believed they called it.

One of them was on the Executive Council, and also on the Examining Council.

She had not been able to prepare a written statement of her case, as requested but she had all the documents with her.

"You had better keep them until you make out your statement," said Sir F. Lushington.—Evening News, November 29th, 1902.

£150,000 FALLS TO A GROCER.

LONG-LOST UNCLE DIES AND LEAVES A FORTUNE MADE IN GOLD.

Thirty-five years ago John Binny disappeared mysteriously from Blairgowrie. Diligent search was made for him, but to no purpose. His nephew, Thomas Binny a grocer in Blairgowrie, has just heard that his long-lost uncle has died, and left £150,000 to his next of kin.

Gold mining in Australia is believed to have built the fortune.—The Star 12th October, 1900.

BONET OR BONNET.

Two hundred people from the Department of Ardecche have filed claims to a fortune of £12,000,000, left by John Claude Bonnet. Bonnet died in India in the first half of the last century.

NEXT-OF-KIN ADVERTISEMENTS.

Copies of advertisements are sufficient to put persons in possession of information which may lead to the acquisition of large sums of money, and we may observe that during the last few years we have been the means of giving parties information which has led to their being possessed of very considerable property. ## A MISER'S GOLD.

AN AMERICAN CRESUS WHO LIVED IN POVERTY.

Great sensation has been caused in America by the discovery that Colonel George T. Cline, who died a few weeks ago in Chicago, has left a huge fortune. Claimants are arriving from all over the States to share in the three million dollars which have been already found.

Colonel Cline, who came of an old Maryland family, and was very proud of the fact that his father fought in the War of 1812, bought in 1893 the Woodbine Hotel, at Englewood, a frame structure put up for the World's Fair and containing 75 rooms. Here he lived until his death, absolutely alone and inhabiting one room only.

The door was double padlocked and never left open. One man of much daring, however, did obtain a view of the interior. This is what he saw:—Two plain chairs, a table, washstand, and bed. Underneath the bed were ranged eight violins, side by side, each in a leather case and each covered by a white silk handkerchief.

For ten years he passed most of his time in that room, rarely going out, except to infrequent meals, and playing the violin through his waking hours.

His property is left to his brother and sister and various nephews, but it is said that a "wife" has already appeared.—The Star, 24th August, 1903.

WORKING-MEN HEIRS TO 250,000 DOLLARS.

Henry Lavery, a Belfast working bootmaker, and Patrick Lavery, farmer, of Moy, County Tyrone, have received, through the United States Consul at Belfast, intelligence that their brother, John Lavery, who emigrated to America in 1860, died at New York on the 27th ult., leaving them sole heirs to real and personal property valued at 250,000 dols. John Lavery succeeded in business as a restaurant proprietor, and the intimation of his demise came from a solicitor practising in New York.—Evening Standard, March 15th, 1904.

LEGACY FOR CREDITORS.

Nine years since Vyvyan Kemp, a Dover florist, was declared a bankrupt, the dividend being only 1s. 11d. in the £. Having just received a legacy of £1,500, he now announces to his creditors they will now be paid in full, with 4 per cent. interest to date.—Daily Illustrated Mail, March 14th, 1904.

CLAIMANTS WANTED FOR £18,000.

The relatives of Henry Mosgrove, a native of Belfast, who went to California with his brother Sam about 40 years ago, and died there recently, are wanted to come forward to claim their share of the estate, which he has left, valued at £18,000. The British Vice-Consul at Los Angeles, California, is informed that Henry Mosgrove had relatives in Ireland, and a nephew in South Africa, who are entitled to a share in his estate. BRIDGEND BAKER'S HANDSOME INHERITANCE.

Great excitement has been caused in the town of Bridgend by the announcement that Mr. George E. Davies, baker and confectioner, of Riverside House, had succeeded to a large fortune.

Mr. Davies, who is a man of substance, financially, has been informed by an Australian firm of solicitors that as one of the next-of-kin to a relative who recently died in Australia, he has come into an immense estate. He proceeds abroad next week with his wife and a solicitor to make further inquiries.

A London solicitor, acting on Mr. Davies's behalf, went to the Antipodes and found £100,000 lying in the bank in hard cash and an estate around the city of Melbourne which produces an immense sum.

In the course of an interview Mr. Davies stated that his great uncle, Mr. Edmund Franklin, of Northleach, Gloucestershire, went to South Adelaide, Australia, over 60 years ago. He was a saddler, and was successful in business.

About 45 years ago Mr. Franklin died, leaving no will, and since then the property has remained unclaimed, the money accumulating in the bank.—Star, September 21st, 1903.

WINDFALL OF £80,000.

WORKMAN'S SUDDEN RISE FROM EIGHT SHILLINGS A DAY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

NEW YORK, Wednesday May 25.

A London firm of solicitors recently advertised in the "New York Herald" for a man named Patrick Hennessy, whose uncle in Melbourne left him £80,000.

Hennessy was found to-day, and was overjoyed by his unexpected good fortune. He is an Irishman and a widower with four children, who was formerly employed by the British War Office. He has been working for many years as a Custom House weigher in the Havemeyer sugar refinery at Brooklyn, earning eight shillings a day.

Hennessy has placed the matter in the hands of a firm of New York lawyers, who will communicate with the London solicitors and have the estate settled immediately.—Daily Mail, May 26th, 1904.

WINDFALL FOR A SHOEBLACK.

Yesterday it was reported that a shoeblick named, curiously enough, George Winterfall, aged fifty, who has traded in Sloane-square, S.W., for many years, received a letter from a firm of London solicitors to the effect that an uncle, who has just died in New Zealand, has left him £850.—Daily Mirror, June 29th, 1904.

It is officially stated that the Australian estate of William Jones, valued at £37,000, has by consent been divided into twenty-four parts for distribution among eight claimants.—Daily Mail, May 21st, 1904.

FORTUNE TOO LATE.

In the hope of getting a situation a young Austrian Clerk from the neighbourhood of Trieste travelled to that town, but met with no success. His funds at last became exhausted, his box of clothes was detained as security by an innkeeper, and for a week he supported life on oranges and coffee.

Finally, in sheer despair, he shot himself one evening at a café at the same time that a letter arrived at the inn announcing the death of an aunt who had left him a considerable sum of money.—Weekly Dispatch, April 17th, 1901.

WINDFALLS FOR WORKPEOPLE.

Through the death of a relative named William Murray in San Francisco, several families residing at Biggles Main, near Wallsend, become the recipients of bequests of about £200 each. Murray emigrated to California fifty years ago, but for more than thirty years nothing had been heard of him. All the beneficiaries are working people.—Daily Mail, May 26th, 1904.

£100,000 WINDFALL.

BRIDGEND BAKER'S HANDSOME INHERITANCE.

Great excitement has been caused in the town of Bridgend by the announcement that Mr. George E. Davies, baker and confectioner, of Riverside House, has succeeded to a large fortune.

Mr. Davies, who is a man of substance, financially, has been informed by an Australian firm of Solicitors that as one of the next-of-kin to a relative who recently died in Australia, he has come into an immense estate. He proceeds abroad next week with his wife and a solicitor to make further inquiries.

A London solicitor, acting on Mr. Davies's behalf, went to the Antipodes and found £100,000 lying in the bank in hard cash and an estate around the city of Melbourne which produces an immense sum. Star, September 21st, 1903.

DOUGAL'S INDEX REGISTER TO NEXT-OF-KIN.—Messrs. F. H. Dougal and Co., of 62, Strand, London, have issued a useful book in connection with their Unclaimed Money Registry and Next-of-Kin Advertisement Office. It is an index of the advertisements constantly appearing for claimants to large sums of money and property in Great Britain and all parts of the world, and it has been compiled and arranged with considerable care. It contains the names of persons deceased whose heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, or legal representatives have been advertised for, also of legatees, missing friends, annuitants, &c., advertised in the London, Provincial, Irish, Scotch, and foreign newspapers. As large a sum as £77,692,769 is in the hands of the Paymaster General as suitors' stock and cash. The unclaimed dividends at the Bank of England invested in the public funds can be calculated by millions. In its way the book is a unique production, and contains much interesting matter relating to fortunes, many of which have been obtained through the agency of Messrs. Dougal. Most of the "windfalls" were unexpected, and the fortunate persons would probably never have obtained the welcome cash and estates but for the information supplied in Messrs. Dougal's book.—Blackburn Standard.

EXTRACTS FROM OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

F. H. DOUGAL & CO.'S UNCLAIMED MONEY REGISTER.

By consulting this book or communicating with the publishers many who are now perhaps in poor circumstances might have the opportunity of recovering what really belongs to them, but which is now lying dormant in the Court of Chancery.—Standard, Port Melbourne.

This noted firm has been in existence for over half a century and regularly publish a full list of families entitled to receive money now lying in Chancery. Their book is a wonderful production.—Northern Luminary, New Zealand.

The Register contains names of persons advertised for since 1700, and is of interest to everybody who has rich relatives, and who may probably have been left legacies.—Hakittika Guardian, New Zealand.

The book is a most valuable compilation, and should be procured by everyone who suspects there is money lying for him in the coffers of the Court of Chancery.—Chronicle, St. George's, Grenada.

UNCLAIMED MONEY.—We have no objection to become the agency of turning our readers into millionaires. We should have some hesitation in recommending them to go to Kewstoke, but we can ask them with a clear conscience to consult Dougal & Co. the well-known London firm who oblige people by helping them to fortunes. They are the gentlemen who enrich themselves with unclaimed money, missing heirs at law, next-of-kin, &c., and befriending ignorant persons all the world over by telling them of something to their advantage. Unfold wealth is lying in England waiting for the proper parties to turn up and claim some of it. It is clear that people live and die, often in want, ignorant of the fact that they are heirs to wealth. Here, for instance, is an incident which happened recently. An old agricultural labourer, who was sharing out a miserable existence in Devonshire without a thought of anything about legacies, and his people had been poor as he thought, and he expected to end his days in work, just as he had spent the greater part of his life. He happened to see one of a list of people advertised for—this one we have referred to—to claim money, and he came across his own name in full. He immediately communicated with the publishers of the list, and in the next fortnight he had in his pocket an enormous fortune left nearly one hundred years ago. So such lucky fellows Dougal's Index has proved a veritable gold mine.—The Daily Gleaner, Jamaica.

UNCLAIMED MONEY.—F. H. Dougal & Co. have, during the last few years, recovered considerable sums for people in the Colonies.—Ratherleigh Sun, Australia.

It is possible many people are not aware that a huge amount of money lies unclaimed in Chancery. To a large portion of this money there are doubtless legitimate heirs, but they are either ignorant of the fortune that is waiting to be claimed by them, or unaware how to set about establishing their rights.—Pahoa Herald, New Zealand.

It is well known how that there are in the hands of the Paymaster-General nearly £100,000,000 of unclaimed money, positively asking to be appropriated, and that there are all over the world hundreds of heirs and their descendants, who, if found, would benefit something to their advantage. In a practical way Messrs. Dougal & Co., of the Strand, London, take up this case in the course of what may be termed the army of unemployed heirs and next-of-kin.—Conner Guardian, New South Wales.

SHORT CUTS TO FORTUNE.—The work before us is a complete record of persons who have been advertised for. But it is more than that; it is a book of marvels. "Truth is stranger than fiction." Dougal & Co. undertake to hunt up old wills, records, &c., and give attention to all cases entrusted to them for investigation and collection.—Wynyard Examiner, New South Wales.

A FORTUNE ON APPLICATION.—We desire to direct the attention of our readers to Dougal's Unclaimed Money Register. The initiative to recover money must in every case be taken by the claimant; the Court of Chancery makes no effort in that direction beyond the insertion of an advertisement. This valuable book directs the method of procedure.—Oban Herald, New South Wales.

To those who have an idea that there was money in the family, which has in some way got locked up in Chancery, the list will be of use. The Register is interesting as affording the preliminary information necessary to prosecute a claim.—The Times, Melbourne, Australia.

Whoever has or has had rich relatives and likely to leave legacies to missing members of the family, would be interested in the Unclaimed Money Register published by F. H. Dougal & Co.—Cree River Argus.

The Register is a neatly bound volume, and deserves a wide circulation.—Barcoo Independent.

A most valuable production, forming a complete register of property in Chancery. The firm has assisted numberless persons to recover amounts of money from the unclaimed millions lying in Chancery.—Marlborough Press.

By consulting the pages of this book many now in poor circumstances may learn something which might lead to comfort, if not to affluence.—Melbourn Herald.

As will be seen in another column a large amount of money, £100,000,000, is in Chancery. The firm of F. H. Dougal & Co. during the last few years have recovered considerable sums for people in the Colonies. Full particulars relating to any name will be supplied upon receipt of £1.—Star Times, Cape of Good Hope.

No expense has been spared to render the work correct. In Australia and other colonies hundreds of British subjects have died intestate, leaving sums of money which can all be recovered by the persons now entitled on their establishing their claims.—Wynyard Times.

Many people have recovered property and become the possessors of large fortunes through the agency of this book, and as Dougal & Co. conduct their business in a thoroughly practical and straightforward manner, those who think they are the heirs of money or property should apply to them.—St. Christopher's Advertiser.

Some wonderful examples are given of fortunes that were attained by those who did not expect them.—Farrnambool Echo, Victoria, Australia.

F. H. DOUGAL & Co., Unclaimed Money Registry, 463 Strand, London.

A most valuable production, forming a complete register of property in Chancery. The firm has assisted numerous persons to recover amounts of money from the unclaimed moneys lying in Chancery.—Manawatu Standard, New Zealand.

Messrs. Dougal & Co. hold numerous testimonials from people in New Zealand for whom they have recovered large sums. People having expectations could scarcely do better than refer to the lists of this firm.—Hot La Chronicle, New Zealand.

The Register contains names of persons advertised for, and many people have received large amounts through agency of Messrs. Dougal & Co.—Wairarapa Standard, New Zealand.

An admirable publication which gives the names of all persons entitled to money in Chancery. Quite a number are supposed to be in Australia, and this year's list contains many names of families well known Queensland.—Northern Age.

Messrs. Dougal & Co. have received numerous testimonials from persons who gratefully acknowledge indebtedness to their agency in the recovery of moneys, and to the knowledge that they were entitled to such.—New Zealand Mail.

We have received a copy of Dougal & Co.'s Register of Next-of-Kin, Legatees, &c., which strikes us as being of great importance and full of possibilities to parties whose names correspond with those printed.—St. Thomas Indian, West India.

It is well known that there are many families in this Colony who are ignorant of the fact that there is money lying unclaimed for them at home. Messrs. Dougal & Co. have recovered considerable sums for people in the Colonies who knew nothing about it until they saw their names in the book. We hope that this paragraph may be the means of others—now perhaps in poor circumstances—becoming wealthy, by recovering what really belongs to them, now lying dormant in the Court of Chancery.—Frontier Guardian.

LOOK OUT FOR FORTUNES!—We have received from Messrs. F. H. Dougal & Co. a book relating to fortunes various sums of money now lying in Chancery and elsewhere, waiting to be claimed by their rightful owner Wiltshire Times.

The book is a valuable one and should be procured by everyone.—Edinburgh Observer.

The information contained therein is of great interest, and might prove of extreme value to some people who now labouring under the evils and inconveniences of poverty, but who are ignorant that possible wealth is awaiting them from some unexpected source.—Queensland Mercantile Gazette.

That such a list is valuable is proved by the testimonials from persons who by its means have become acquainted with the fact that a legacy has been left to them.—Laura Standard, South Australia.

Numerous copies of testimonials from persons who have recovered considerable sums of money through F. H. Dougal & Co.'s firm and the agency which was established in 1844, has a complete list, and guarantees to forward a copy of any advertisement published since 1700, for the sum of £1.—The Daily Mail, Australia.

The work is a valuable one, and many large sums of money have been recovered through its instrumentality.—Riverina Recorder, New South Wales.

Numerous testimonials from people who have recovered money by means of Messrs. Dougal's Agency. It is useful book, and may be obtained through most booksellers.—Wellington Times, New Zealand.

Considerable sums received for people in the Colonies, who, but for the investigations the firm had made, would have known nothing about it.—The Advertiser, Australia.

The firm of F. H. Dougal and Co. has carried on the business of recovering sums of money for lost friends during the last fifty years. That they are successful in their profession is beyond dispute.—Southern Standard, New Zealand.

The book is exceedingly well got up, and contains an immense mass of curious and valuable information Unclaimed Money.—The Reporter and Illawarra Journal.

In Australia and other Colonies hundreds of British subjects have died intestate, leaving sums of money which can be recovered.—Wild River Times.

Through seeing their names in it many have been successful in obtaining considerable sums during the last years. Had it not been for the matter being brought under their notice by means of the Register these persons would never have known of the fortunes awaiting them. The firm is a very old established one, and we understand their fees are very moderate.—Manawatu Daily Times.

Numerous testimonials from inquirers who have been enabled to obtain possession of money or property through Dougal's Agency.—South Canterbury Times.

We strongly recommend, as a preliminary to those who had, or have, connections abroad, the purchase of book to which we have referred.—The Bush Advocate.

Dougal's Index Register, which will be of interest to those who have been away from the old country for so long a time, and have not heard from moneyed relatives of late. . . . Many testimonials from grateful recipients of large small fortunes, whose fortune has come to them entirely through the agency of Dougal's Register.—Patna Courier Press.

Messrs. F. H. Dougal & Co., of 62, Strand, London, offer unique advantages to persons likely to benefit by them; are not only prepared to assist heirs-at-law, legatees who may be entitled, but have actually helped many; most welcome windfalls.—The Gold Coast Chronicle, Africa.

An enormous amount of money is in Chancery, and Messrs. Dougal have been instrumental in securing numerous instances large sums due to missing heirs.—Canterbury, Surrey Halls and Box Hill News.

No one knows but that he may be heir to a fortune that awaits the discovery of the next-of-kin.—Palmerston and Waihouiti Times, Africa.

The book should prove a most invaluable one to those people who have relatives in the old country with which they have not corresponded for years. . . . No family should be without a copy.—West Wimmera Mail.

This is a useful work, as the advertisements in the English and other papers are often unseen by the parties interested.—The Aroha and Clarendon News.

£100,000 UNCLAIMED.—During the last few years vast sums of money have been recovered for the people the Anglo-African colonies, who knew nothing about it until, by chance, they happened to see their names in Dougal's list of families.—Northam Citizen, Victoria, Australia.

Just as one of the quays in the old town of Barcelona is named after Mr. Edward Blich, a hero of the battle of Albufera, so they left his house 2200 ft. and several other houses of the old town of Barcelona have recently been reported. A tragedy occurred in the old town of Barcelona in 1904, when a young man whose name he is a famous artist, shot his wife in the house.

A female bull terrier, 'Milkmaid', has received 28,000 help, which by an old man, 'Parsifal', and a bull terrier, 'Shelton', led for a few minutes when he was taken ill in a garden in the city of London.

F. H. BOUGAL & CO., 458, Strand, London, England.

It contains a deal of information. During the last few years the firm of Messrs. Dougal & Co. has considered the matter for people in the colonies, as shown by the numerous testimonials received and has the significant idea that they have a claim to property should pursue this work.—Trinidadian News, Trinidad, S.A.

We have received Dougal's Index Register of Money and Property in Chancery. It has reference to unclaimed wealth in the hands of the Registrar-General, England. ## F. H. DOUGAL & Co., Unclaimed Money Registry, 432 Strand, London.

Messrs. F. H. Dougal & Co., of London, have been good enough to send us their book. Messrs. Dougal & Co. have been the means of securing the rightful rights to numerous families in the Colonies, who otherwise would never have known what the possession of wealth meant. — Falmouth Chronicle, Cape Colony.

MISSED HEIRS.—It is well known now that there are in the hands of the British Paymaster-General, and a one hundred millions of unclaimed money, positively asking to be appropriated, and that there are "lost, strayed, or straggled" all over the world hundreds of heirs and their descendants, who, if found, would "heart of someone's pocket" a fortune. Few, indeed, are aware of the extent of this great loss, but those who are, are not likely to be alarmed. The Court of Chancery. Men die in poverty, and are entitled to riches. It may seem of no moment, but the fact remains that many a man is now, with his family, starving, who is heir to a fortune, and that many a woman is pining for wealth by day and night to obtain a fine, able livelihood who is next-of-kin to a millionaire. They are the "have men who lived before Agamemnon," and died "unhappy for" because there were no "poets" to sing their fate. In a practical way Messrs. F. H. Dougal & Co., 432 Strand, London, take up this side of the question, and may be called the army of unemployed heirs and next-of-kin. Their recently-published list of these fortunes and fortunes, people is a long one, and some of the stories told by them are almost incredible. They are not good proof given of their reality. Indeed, anyone who objects to even the faintest idea that someone alive to him might have some money somewhere could not do better than make inquiries.—The Herald, Melbourne.

A large amount of money—£100,000,000—is in Chancery and awaiting claimants. Full particulars relating to any name as published by the Chancery Court will be supplied upon receipt of £1.—The Bohemian Gazette, Africa.

This Unclaimed Money Register is a wonderful record of millions lying waiting for claimants, and we are amazed, and see no reason whatever to doubt it, that within the past few years many many thousands have reached the hands of those to whom it belonged, but who, but for the information here supplied, would have remained in ignorance of the windfall awaiting them until their dying day.—East London Standard, Adelaide.

We have received from Messrs. F. H. Dougal & Co., a leading legal firm in London, a copy of their Register of Unclaimed Money. There is a large field open to the researches of a competent legal man, and Messrs. Dougal & Co. publish signed names of persons who, if they or their representatives are in existence, might become wealthy if they could only establish the fact of being the rightful claimants.—Manlymouth and Family Advertiser.

Numbers of poor families have become the possessors of large fortunes through the perusal of this interesting and the invaluable service rendered them by Messrs. Dougal & Co.—The Century, Kingstown, West Indies.

It is a most important production to many people. There are thousands of families in the Australasia who are ignorant of the fact that there is money lying such and in England for them.—The Colon Herald.

A most useful publication. . . . Among our readers there may be some who having near or distant relatives in old country, would be enabled to substantiate a claim.—Barrow's Chronicle.

It seems a pity that such a vast sum of money should be lying dormant, and it may be hoped, therefore will be of service to some of our readers who may have reason for believing that they are interested parties.—Telegraph, China.

It contains several names well known in this district, and we only hope they are the rightful owners.—Dispatch, Australia.

It is astonishing when one comes to think of it, that such an immense sum as £100,000,000 should be awaiting rightful owners, and that these said owners have to be run after, as it were, to be enabled to claim and recover their rights. But it is nevertheless true, and this firm are endeavoring to ascertain interest in it. There are numerous testimonials from American people who have found it to their advantage to consult Dougal & Co., and place their claims in their hands, and we would advise all to satisfy themselves as to what names appear.—Ginnelish Advertiser, New South Wales.

NEXT-OF-KIN INDEX.—There are few families who do not claim to have had at some time or other, history, more or less remote, a lost, strayed, or other similar production of lost, strayed, and fallen unacknowledged right to a fortune in Chancery. Some of these claims are substantial, others perhaps are the fragment of a dream. To satisfy the longings of such as be helped, Messrs. Dougal & Co., of London, have published a handsomely-bound volume, "An Index Register to Next-of-Kin, Heirs, and Cases of Unclaimed Money Advertisements," which, in spite of the dryness of its subject-matter, is a most useful, as well as highly valuable work. From it we learn that by returning a card to the office, 432 Strand, London, of our stock and cash standing in the Court of Chancery is upwards of £77,663,769, and that of this sum proportion remains unpaid. There is also an enormous sum standing in the Bank of England as dividends. However, it would take up too much space to enumerate one-half the claims given in the present notice; we will refer our readers to the fountain head.—The Adelaide Observer, Saturday, August 8, 1891.

NEXT-OF-KIN.—Everyone knows that an enormous sum, representing in all many millions sterling, rests in the possession of the Court of Chancery and the Bank of England representing much millions of stock and unclaimed dividends. In addition large amounts are due to representatives of persons who died leaving no heirs, and the rightful owners of this wealth to obtain possession of it. Messrs. F. H. Dougal & Co., of London, have published an "Index to Advertisements for next-of-kin, heirs-at-law, legatees, &c., who have been advertised to claim money and property." This "Index" is a thick, handsomely-bound, and usefully-titled volume, and is a record of an immense number of advertisements of the kind just stated, many of which very possibly may be seen by the parties interested. It is issued at a very low price, and some valuable information is given. It certainly has a direct interest for thousands of persons scattered over the world. —Toronto Globe, May 27, 1891.

DOUGAL'S INDEX REGISTER OF NEXT-OF-KIN.—This is a carefully compiled and exceedingly useful work. In the newspapers there are constantly appearing advertisements for claimants to large sums of money property in this country and all parts of the world. It is for the purpose of the authors to publish an index of advertisements, which must be a great help. It contains the names of persons, deceased, whose representatives of one or several persons have been advertised for, also legatees, annuitants, &c., advertised for money, real estate, and other property. It often happens that these advertisements are not seen by the parties interested, and they find out the amount of the fact that they have been advertised for. By the aid of the authors to remedy this, and by reference to the volume they have issued, the public is enabled to obtain what may be very valuable information at little cost.—Fremont Herald, December 27, 1890.

DORMANT FUNDS IN CHANCERY, ETC.

There are thousands of persons in all parts of the world who have no conception of the enormous sums of money they are entitled to.

F. H. DOUGAL & CO. undertake to hunt up old Wills, Records, &c., and give their best attention to all cases entrusted to them for investigation and collection.

A Money Order or Cheque should accompany all instructions to search, as a considerable time has to be occupied in thoroughly investigating and sifting intricate cases.

The following paragraphs show that people live and die in want, ignorant of the fact that they are heirs to ENORMOUS WEALTH; others unexpectedly receive large fortunes.

LARGE WINDFALL FOR A LINCOLNSHIRE MAN.

Mr. Hilley Overton, a relative of the present incumbent of Epworth, Lincolnshire, and he was once a farmer at Calster, has had a fortune of £22,000 bequeathed him by an aunt lately deceased. Mr. Overton worked in Gainsborough last winter as a foundryman, and recently in Grimsby on the tramcars. He had previously received £26,000 in bequests.—daily Chronicle, March 28th, 1887.

A HUGE PROPERTY.

An almost incredible story (says the Melbourne Argus of Dec. 2) comes from near Macababalan, in New South Wales. A wealthy selector, named Arthur Alfred Teale, was visited by the Rev. James Young, Church of England clergyman, and incumbent of that parish, lately from England. Mr. Young made inquiries concerning the early family history of Teale, and, knowing that a huge property was in Chancery belonging to someone of the same name, he communicated with a lawyer at home, the result being that little doubt is felt at the rightful heir is found. The value of the estate is said to be £5,000,000 in cash, and property to the value of £7,000,000. Years ago Teale used to say that his family were worth millions, but little credence was given to the statement.—Standard, Jan. 8th, 1891.

WARWICK.—LEGACY TO A SUPPOSED LUNATIC.

At the meeting of the Guardians on Saturday, Alderman S. W. Stanton presiding, a letter was read from Messrs. Twist and Sons, solicitors, of Coventry, stating that Mrs. Glandson, a widow, had left a legacy of £200 to Elizabeth Walker, who they had reason to believe was an inmate of Hatton Lunatic Asylum. They were desirous of paying the money to Court, and asked if the girl was in the asylum. The letter was referred to the Clerk to make the necessary inquiries and send a reply.—Birmingham Gazette, Nov. 10th, 1890.

CLAIMANTS TO HALF A MILLION.

The Exchange Telegraph Company is informed that, as a result of inquiries made, several Derbyshire families are claiming half a million sterling now lying in Chancery, being the estate of a Mr. Barber who amassed a fortune during the last century in India. The claimants state that they are the next of kin to Mr. Barber.—Chronicle, Oct. 16th, 1890.

DOUGAL'S UNCLAIMED MONEY REGISTER.

BURIED TREASURE

The fact that there is not a great deal of unclaimed money in the world is a fact which the Master-General shows that of wealth remain in the world to be had and used if the right way to work for it is known. The right way to work for it is to go to the right place, and there are many people going about the world poor who are very rich. We have recently read the most romantic stories of persons in the lowest stations of life suddenly raised into positions of affluence and wealth by what has been termed a "wind-fall," or a thing of chance, when it is well known that nothing comes by chance, those unlooked-for blessings being only the putting of the inheritor into the rightful possession of his own by one or other of the useful agencies always busily at work for this purpose. Here, for instance, is the case of a prince's heir—in October, 1877, a broken-down soldier, named James Pitt, died in the Immigrants' Home, Melbourne, and it was afterwards discovered that he was the missing heir to a property in the old country, yielding an annual income of about £22,000. By the post-office, a remittance of £100 was received from his friends, which, in accordance with their instructions, they have paid over to the Immigrants' Aid Society. Pitt was an inmate of the Home for five years, and his maintenance only cost the Society about £15 to £14 a year, so the remittance will fully repay them. Coming nearer to our own doors, we have the case of the Duchess of Cornwall, being that of a suit involving claims to a very large amount of money and an estate producing several thousands per annum which will shortly come before the Court of Chancery. By a will made eighty years ago much property in Cornwall passed to a lady whose eccentricities were notorious. She claimed to be Duchess of Cornwall, and always refused to take coin with the Queen's head on it. On one occasion she refused to allow her carriage in Hyde Park to be turned aside in order to let her Majesty's pass. She was at last declared a lunatic, and to was her only son, who is still allowed £2,000 a year by the Court of Chancery. The claimants are seeking to establish their rights to the accumulations, which amount to over £180,000, and at the death of the son there will be a hard fight over the estates. These are only two of the many cases that are constantly coming before the public, and it will be remembered that in this paper only a short time since here was the family of Methwell advertised for. We have also just had sent us by Messrs. Dougal and Co., of 62, Strand, London, the newest firm which has been so successful in finding heirs to property and obtaining it for them, a handsome volume giving an index register to next of kin, heirs-at-law, and unclaimed money. It contains the names of thousands of persons who may have considered themselves not worth a brass farthing, but here, and this firm, as many can find.

Index to heirs-at-law, &c. by Messrs. F. R. Dougal and Co., 62, Strand, London.

many people are not aware that a huge amount of money—over seventy millions sterling, it is said—lies unclaimed in Chancery. To a large portion of this money there are doubtless legitimate heirs, but they are either ignorant of the fortune that is waiting to be claimed by them, or unaware how to set about establishing their rights. The book we have referred to above gives an alphabetical list of persons who are wanted to claim fortunes of various amounts, and it likewise furnishes other particulars. The publication is one that possesses a deal of interest for thousands of people.—Dover Telegraph, May 16th, 1888.

"HEIRS-AT-LAW AND UNCLAIMED MONEY" (London: F. R. Dougal and Co., 62, Strand).

This is a most useful publication and it should be consulted by all persons desirous of ascertaining whether they are entitled to any of the large sums of money which still lie unclaimed in the coffers of the Court of Chancery. "The number of advertisements constantly appearing for claimants to large sums of money and property in Great Britain and all parts of the world, has induced the authors to publish this index to advertisements, which has been compiled and arranged with considerable care, while no expense has been spared to render the work correct." It contains the names of persons deceased whose heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, or legal personal representatives have been advertised for, and a great deal of other valuable information, which is thus obtainable at a trifling cost.—Coventry Times, May 16th, 1888.

DOUGAL'S UNCLAIMED MONEY REGISTER (62, STRAND, LONDON).

Messrs. Dougal and Co. have been successful in several cases during the past few years, and only during the last few days they have proved their claim to the satisfaction of the Court of Chancery, to a large sum of money on behalf of Andre Metmilled and Henry Gaspard Metmilled, which had remained unclaimed since the year 1845. This money has been paid over to their clients. Their solicitors have been successful in three cases lately, viz.: Alcock, Harrison, and Sinclair, and have now several claims in hand, which will, they have no doubt, prove successful. We feel confident that if this Unclaimed Money Register was more widely known, hundreds of the money which is due to them. It is the chance that the casual reader may pick up the book comparatively poor and find it becoming progressively rich beyond the dreams of avarice that gives it its surpassing interest. It does not contain only one number of rail pie, but many hundreds. It is, indeed, a real which everybody "with expectations" or without them should take at every opportunity of consulting.—South Wales Daily News, March 26th, 1888.

UNCLAIMED MONEY. London: F. E. Dougal and Co., 62, Strand.

This is a most useful publication and it should be consulted by all persons desirous of ascertaining whether they are entitled to any of the large sums of money which still lie unclaimed in the coffers of the Court of Chancery.—Warwick and Leamington Times, May 14th, 1888.

We have received a copy of the seventh edition of the "Unclaimed Money Register," compiled by Messrs. Dougal and Co., 62, Strand, London. The book is an index to advertisements for next-of-kin, heirs-at-law, legacies, &c., who have been advertised to claim money and property in Great Britain and all over the world. This work will be perused, on all sides, with a deal of interest, and in consequence will doubtless receive attention as claims are coming forward in the courts to a large sum of money left by one of the nation's debtors. In the last given "The Unclaimed Money Register" we find the names of debtors, debtors, debtors, debtors, debtors, and debtors, all occurring.—Warwick Journal, May 11th, 1888.

UNCLAIMED MONEY REGISTER. London: F. E. Dougal and Co., 62, Strand.

This is, in many respects, a most valuable handbook, and forms a complete record and register of property in Chancery. The nature of the work is explained in a few sentences. The number of advertisements constantly appearing to claimants to large sums of money and property in Great Britain, Ireland, and all parts of the world, has induced the authors to publish a register, which has been compiled and arranged with conscientious care, while no expense has been spared to render the work complete. It contains the names of persons advertised for since 1818 in the London, Provincial, Irish, British, and foreign newspapers as next-of-kin, heirs-at-law, legacies, &c., to come forward and prove their claims to property of the aggregate value of many millions sterling. These advertisements are often unseen by the parties interested; many of them are and the ignorance of the fact that they have been advertised for. The aim is to remedy this difficulty, and by reference to the author the public are now enabled to obtain this very valuable information at a trifling cost. The book is all arranged, and instances are added in which it has helped our firm have been successful on behalf of their clients. Some interesting information is also given as to curious wills, and the book is evidently the result of very great labour, and possesses the practical merit of being exceedingly well printed and bound. The "Index" in fact, is by far the most complete work of its kind in reference to the vast sums of money and property amounting in some cases to several millions in Chancery awaiting owners.—Daily News, May 14th, 1888.

OWNERS WANTED.

Messrs. F. E. Dougal and Co., of 62, Strand, London, have just published a seventh edition of their Index Register to next-of-kin, heirs-at-law, and cases of unclaimed money, from which we gather that vast fortunes are stowed away somewhere waiting for owners. The references given and testimonials quoted go to prove that Messrs. Dougal have been instrumental in bringing owners and previously unclaimed wealth together in a safe, efficient and satisfactory manner.—Sunday Express, May 14th, 1888.

£77,000,000 WAITING FOR SOMEBODY.

We have just been looking at an "Index Register" to next-of-kin, heirs-at-law, &c., by F. E. Dougal, 62, Strand, London, and see from it that at the present moment the enormous amount of £77,000,000 is lying in Chancery, waiting owners. The Index gives the names of those legally entitled to this large sum. Any one possessing the clue and disposed to follow it up, can easily do better than avail themselves of the help now afforded. Cases are mentioned in which some effort has proved wonderfully successful. For instance, a case is recorded in which a working stone-mason, living at Warrington, suddenly found himself possessing £25,000. Another, a resident of Greenwich, some near Barrow, unexpectedly received a communication to the effect that he was a purchaser in a sum estimated at £20,000,000 and under the will of a late relative.—Chard and Taunton News, June 2nd, 1888.

THE CORK MURDERER.

The will of the Cork wife poisoner, Dr. Cross, who was hanged last month, has just been disclosed, and is a remarkable document. It was penned by the condemned man himself while awaiting execution, and without legal help. It is written in the usual legal form. The testator revoked all previous wills, and bequeathed the whole of his estate to his brother, Edward Cross, of Ventnor, Isle of Wight, and William Tyndal, of London, in trust, to be disposed of as he directs, as follows. He leaves his daughter Ellen, invested in stock, and the sum amount to his son, Henry Cross. From the aforesaid sums he directs the sum of £200,000 to be divided into equal shares, for the benefit of the child which was the result of his adultery with his former partner, whom he afterwards married just before his arrest, and present Mrs. Cross. He directs that if a child not then being baptized, shall be called John. The wife and stepdaughters to his son, Henry Cross, and the remainder of his property, interest and undivided, subject to payment of the sums specified to his two daughters and an annuity of £500 a year to his widow, Mrs. Cross so long as she remains unmarried.

UNCLAIMED PROPERTY IN CHANCERY.

THE publication by the Chancery Pay Office of the list of causes having balances to their credit is likely to produce much investigation, and to give rise to many expectations. If the document penetrates across the Atlantic, as in all probability it will, some heart-stirring may be expected among our American cousins, some of whom are credited with extravagant notions as to the fortunes merely waiting to be claimed by them in England. In 1855 the first of the lists was published, and, according to the report of the Chancery Funds Commissioners, "many persons came forward and preferred their claims, and the stock unclaimed was transferred out of Court to successful claimants." This result is encouraging to investigators of the list.

No amount, it should be observed, is less than £50—a sum to which even the richest do not usually object. There is, therefore, quite sufficient inducement to any one who may think he has an interest in the cause to make inquiries. The fact that the amount of the prize is unknown may, perhaps, add zest to the pursuit. But the fact that the property of the Chancery Division of the High Court amounts to a sum nearer £100,000,000 than £50,000,000 sterling—shows that much is to be won.

There are sure to be some happy discoveries, resulting in the receipt of welcome sums. Acute and persevering investigators need not fear that enough will not be left out of their leavings to finish the New Law Courts, and we hope that many of them will be successful in rescuing comfortable sums from the maw of the Commissioners for the reduction of the National Debt.

Not so practically important, but more interesting to the average reader, is the list of "boxes and other miscellaneous effects" remaining in the Bank of England to the credit of the Chancery Division. Compared with the list of causes with balances, unclaimed for fifteen years, the list of boxes is short, but it gives some details which might well be given in the longer list. Most of the causes are marked with the "letter, year, and number" which now appears in the title of every cause, the most material part of which is the year in which the writ was issued. The year is, of course, a useful guide to the searcher, and in future issues of the list of causes, with unclaimed balances, we hope that it will appear, as well as in the list of boxes. It may be assumed that the causes in this latter list, which contain no numbers and letters, were commenced before it became the practice so to identify causes—that is, before 1853. Only one of those not so identified contains any indication of the date of the cause. All the rest must therefore be treated as "aged," like the horses whose years are not given in one of Mr. Tattersall's catalogues.

There are several entries of "plate, jewellery, and trinkets;" heirlooms, no doubt, of value and interest, otherwise they would hardly be where they are; one of "family relics," and one of "presentation plate." Many of the contents are described vaguely as "securities," and some as "promissory notes," baits which will not tempt investigation so strongly as solid silver. One box is marked "His Majesty the King of Spain v. Valles and others; securities," but we have no clue to which king it was, or whether the securities are Spanish bonds. A little investigation would, probably, soon disclose the owner of most of this property. The Chancery Division does not, it must be confessed, take a very high view of its duties in reference to the property deposited with it. If a trustee who found himself possessed of valuable property belonging to his beneficiaries were to use no more diligence to discover their owner than does the Chancery Division, no judge would fail to pronounce him guilty of a grave breach of duty. The highest Court of Equity in the kingdom contents itself with playing a sort of game of hunt the slipper with the public. If ownership is satisfactorily proved the Court will disgorge, but not otherwise. With regard to unclaimed funds and other property of long standing, an official ought to be appointed to discover by all the means available, and by advertisement, whose they are. As it is, the public are left to trust to the ingenuity and penetration of themselves and their legal advisers.—Law Journal.

UNCLAIMED MILLIONS.

GOVERNMENT RETICENT ABOUT THEM.

Millions of money remain in the hands of the Government awaiting claimants. It is unlikely will never come and would be a waste to the State.

It was due to the efficiency of the Exchequer, says a portion of the unclaimed wealth. Mr. Austen Chamberlain has announced that he will not sweep in his Budget to pay some of the nation's expenditures of last year. Dividends on Consols to the value of £1,000,000 were not paid out during 1904, because the owners of these shares had not registered and are probably dead.

The amount of unclaimed Government stock on March 31 reached £3,782,367. It is a large sum which would be used for several purposes by the Treasury.

The offices of the Bankruptcy Court have been built out of money taken from dividends withheld by the court from bankrupts, whose estates were in liquidation.

Dividends in the High Courts, which had been deposited there by suitors in connection with litigation and never withdrawn because the suitors are "missing," amounted in February of last year to £54,722,361.

Over £100,000 is due to soldiers and sailors or their relatives, but very little of it is ever likely to be paid out. Extract from Daily Express, August 10th, 1904.

LOST SHAREHOLDERS.

UNCLAIMED DIVIDENDS WOULD BUILD TWO BATTLESHIPS

The curious fact that twelve shareholders of the South Metropolitan Tramways Company, to whom £10,000 were due, had disappeared and could not be found, although they had been extensively advertised for, is mentioned at the meeting which wound up the company. Consequently, said the chairman, the sum of £10,000, which "would have to be paid to the Bank of England to go to build battleships or to reduce the taxpaying."

On the authority of an agent for the registration of companies, it may be stated that there is somewhere money in unclaimed dividends in London to construct and equip at least two battleships.

The company in the City has between thirty and forty "lost" shareholders. A dividend warrant is sent every five years to the last address of each vanished shareholder, but it is regularly returned through the Dead Letter Office, superscribed "unknown."

"I know of several cases," remarked another registration official, "where sums amounting to accumulated dividends to over £1,000 have waited for years to be claimed; but no tidings can be heard of the shareholders."

"Persons not infrequently die in possession of shares which, being at the time practically valueless, are not mentioned in their wills. In time these shares often pay dividends, but the owners are unknown."

"I remember a case where, after the lapse of some years, a poverty-stricken woman was restored to prosperity through the finding of a share certificate in an old chest of drawers, where it was placed by her husband prior to his death." Daily Mail, November 18th, 1904.

F. H. DOUGAL & CO.,

UNCLAIMED MONEY REGISTRY, 453, STRAND, LONDON, ENGLAND.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

DOUGAL'S INDEX REGISTER TO NEXT-OF-KIN, &c. (Strand, London), will prove of great utility to those who desire to search the Chancery records in the hope that some inheritance awaits their acceptance. It gives, in alphabetical order, some thousands of names of persons wanted, and interspersed with the lists are some amusing anecdotes.—Southern Weekly News, October 16th, 1886.

MESSRS. F. H. DOUGAL AND CO., Strand, have issued an index register to next-of-kin, heirs-at-law, legatees, &c., containing the names of persons deceased, whose next-of-kin, heirs-at-law, and personal representatives are wanted, and also the names of persons who have been advertised for "to claim vast sums of money and property in Great Britain and all parts of the world." To those who have an idea that, though there may not be now, there was at one time some "money in the family" which has in some way or other got locked up in Chancery, the register will be of use. The register is interesting as affording the preliminary information necessary to prosecute a claim by the publication of a carefully tabulated list of the names of those whose money has got into court. Some anecdotes are given of extraordinary windfalls. No doubt the book will be found useful to many persons.—Bath Chronicle, August 19th, 1886.

DOUGAL'S INDEX REGISTER TO NEXT-OF-KIN, HEIRS-AT-LAW, AND CASES OF UNCLAIMED MONEY.—As its name implies, the work before us is a complete record of persons who have been advertised for to claim sums of money and property in Great Britain and all parts of the world since 1850. But it is more than this—it contains a great number of amusing anecdotes on extraordinary windfalls, curious wills, misers, missing relatives, foreign intestates, &c., as also a very lengthy list of Chancery suits in which heirs are wanted, the sum unclaimed in each case being upwards of £50. There are thousands of persons in all parts of the world who have no conception of the enormous sums of money to which they are entitled; and they undertake to hunt up old wills, records, &c., and give their best attention to all cases entrusted to them for investigation and collection. The book is exceedingly well got up, and contains an immense mass of curious and valuable information on the subject upon which it treats.—Nottingham Daily Express, November 5th, 1886.

REGISTER TO NEXT-OF-KIN, HEIRS-AT-LAW, AND CASES OF UNCLAIMED MONEY.—Messrs. F. H. Dougal and Co., of Strand, London, have issued an Index Register, as above, which contains not merely a list of surnames, as in some similar publications, but in many cases also gives the Christian names, places of residence, and the amount of money involved. The volume is well bound and easily arranged, and in other respects the best of the kind published.—Clifton Chronicle, September 15th, 1886.

DOUGAL'S INDEX REGISTER TO NEXT-OF-KIN. (London: F. H. Dougal and Co.)—Most people are aware that a fabulous amount of money—about seventy-seven millions sterling—lies unclaimed in Chancery. To a considerable portion of this there are doubtless legitimate heirs, but they are either ignorant of the fortune that is waiting to be claimed by them, or ignorant of how to set about establishing their rights. Several lists have been published of late giving the names of heirs wanted, and among others is Dougal's Index Register now before us. It gives among other things an alphabetical list of persons wanted to claim fortunes of various sizes, and furnishes particulars showing how further information can be obtained, and also cheers people who have hopes and expectations by giving accounts of the large sums that have been rescued from Chancery.—Midland Counties Herald, October 7th 1886.

DOUGAL'S UNCLAIMED MONEY REGISTER (453, Strand, London).—Messrs. Dougal and Co. have been successful in several cases during the past few years, and only during the last few days they have proved their claim, to the satisfaction of the Court of Chancery, to a large sum of money on behalf of Andre Mermillod and Henry Gaspard Mermillod, which had remained unclaimed since the year 1845. This money has been paid over to their clients. Their solicitors have been successful in three cases lately, viz.: Alecock, Harrison, and Sinclair, and have now several claims in hand, which will, they have no doubt, prove successful. We feel confident that if this Unclaimed Money Register was more widely known, hundreds of families, some now in very poor circumstances, would be benefited. There are upwards of 60 persons in Chester who are entitled to property now in Chancery.—The Farmers' Herald, September, 1886.

DOUGAL'S INDEX REGISTER TO NEXT-OF-KIN, HEIRS-AT-LAW, &c.—(Strand, London).—This is a work containing an immense list of persons who have been advertised for as entitled to legacies. It is compiled by the firm of Messrs. F. H. Dougal and Co., Strand, who have been very successful in recovering considerable sums for persons who had no idea, until they saw their lists, that anything was due to them. It appears that no less than seventy-seven millions of pounds sterling are at present unclaimed; so this book, which contains a list of all persons advertised for since 1700, must contain matters of great interest to many people. It is well printed and handsomely bound, and among the interleaves are testimonials from solicitors who have done business with the firm, also from some fortunate persons who have obtained legacies by their aid.—Derbyshire Times, September 11th, 1886.

DOUGAL'S INDEX REGISTER FOR UNCLAIMED MONEY.—(Strand, W.C.)—According to Mr. Dougal there is at present lying in Chancery the sum of £77,000,000 of money which has never been claimed. He has published the names of persons who, if they can prove they are entitled to it, can obtain the same. Many people have recovered through him, and as he conducts his business in a most straightforward manner, those who think they have money in Chancery should apply to him. He mentions many curious cases in which people have come into large fortunes; he also informs poor people how they can get their money out. In his book he relates many curious wills. As to references, he gives the names of clients he has obtained money for, and also to many solicitors he has done business with, in regard to various claims. —The Family Doctor, August 7th, 1886.

DOUGAL'S INDEX REGISTER TO NEXT-OF-KIN, HEIRS-AT-LAW, AND CASES OF UNCLAIMED MONEY (F. H. Dougal and Co., Strand, London). This is a book of marvels. The Chancery Paymaster in 1881 had a nice little sum of seventy-seven millions in hand waiting for someone to come and claim it, and that amount has no doubt increased a little by this time. It seems to us nothing short of wicked that he should so obstinately stick to this hoard of filthy lucre, when you and I, dear reader, could so advantageously employ a few thousands apiece. A few thousands! What would not the majority of mankind do for a few thousands? What are they not doing daily in the hope of acquiring riches and the "social distinction" (illusive and superficial as it so often proves to be) which wealth confers? Grubbing in the dirt, holding their noses day by day against the money-making grindstone, to pile up a few thousands, or live in a little better style than their neighbours. But here forsooth is an easier way to riches—a short cut to fortune. Get Messrs. Dougal's Index Register of Unclaimed Moneys—find your own name in it—and everybody's name almost is in it, while the great family of the Smiths have a separate index to themselves—then after finding your name, and that of the dear old departed one whom you never knew, but who left his money bags all behind him when he winged his flight from earth, send up a sovereign to Messrs. Dougal, who will in return give you full particulars of the advertisement in which it is represented that you may "hear of something to your advantage on applying, &c.," and there you are! What could be easier? You claim those untold thousands now languishing in the hands of the Chancery Paymaster, and forthwith you come out as a full-blown aristocrat. Yesterday you were a clerk, perhaps, or perchance a poor scribe of some kind, nay even possibly a wielder of the scissors or the razor, or perhaps you purveyed the harmless necessary cabbage—but to-day you are a member of that highly honoured class, the "nobility, gentry, and aristocracy"—with your mansion in the suburbs, your shooting box in the Highlands, and your yacht on the waters, loaded to the scuppers with unlimited champagne, cigars, brandy, soda, and the other concomitants of civilisation. What matters it that you have neither taste nor education, neither sense nor wit, that you do not know an atom about art, or science, or music—that you have no relish even for the beauties of nature. My dear sir, or madam, you have money, and is not that to-day the end and aim of your existence! What then can you wish for more? What more is necessary? Leave, my good sir, or madam, the pursuits of art and science and literature to those who are so infatuated as to suppose that any distinction is conferred by them. Scientific men are thought nothing of without money, you know; the poor artist is a byword, and the impecunious literary man a standing mark for scorn. It's true some of them do get buried in Westminster Abbey, but, of course, that's not till after they're dead, and they don't get any benefit out of that. Money! Money is the thing. Get money, therefore—never mind how, but get it—and the world, which still worships the golden calf, will fall down upon its knees and pay you that homage (not perhaps wholly disinterested) which delights the soul, and is as marrow and fatness to your vanity, and as balm to your wounded self-esteem. Seriously, Messrs. Dougal are doing a useful work in bringing to the notice of the public this store of unclaimed treasure, and their book records numerous wonderful examples of the recovery of great estates by persons who had spent the greatest part of their lives in the most depressing conditions of poverty. The volume also contains numerous examples of curious wills, and is, in many ways, very interesting reading.—Chester Chronicle, October 9th, 1886.
